Dulles Slated To Seek Aid From Congress

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles returns from Paris today to seek vital financial support from Congress for a slowed-down European defense program.

This may prove to be a formidable task, not only because of the cost-cutting temper of Congress but also because of indications the defense buildup may henceforth go even slower than Dulles himself has advocated.

The secretary was due to report promptly to President Eisenhower on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meeting which he and other top U. S. officials attended.

The Council set military targets for the Atlantic Allies for this year at an increase of six divisions in Western Europe for a predicted total of about 56. Two years ago the aim by that time was close to 100 divisions.

The Eisenhower administration had favored a slowdown or stretch-out of the program for a long cold war struggle with the Soviets. Dulles thus abandoned the urgency with which representatives of the previous Truman administration had pressed the buildup.

Evidence that the whole project might go even slower than he wanted, however, was found in the fact that the German upper house with in recent days refused to ratify the European Defense Community Treaty, under which West Germany would be rearmament. Also, there has been speculation that the Soviet peace offensives would have a relaxing effect on defense preparations in Europe far more than in the U. S.

Strikers Return

CINCINNATI (P)—The General Electric Co. said Sunday that "well over 1,000" striking employees were back on their production jobs at the firm's jet engine plant in Evendale.

WHERE NIGHT REIGNED only a second before, a Marine-filled trench at Yucca Flat, Nev., is suddenly plunged into the blinding light of an atomic bomb, detonated 4,000 yards away from the men. After the explosion, the Leathernecks advanced 2,000 yards toward ground zero in an attack on an imaginary beachhead.

13 Persons Injured, One Fatally, In 4 Crashes Here Last Weekend

Thirteen persons were injured, one fatally, last weekend in a series of four auto mishaps on Pickaway County highways.

Fatally injured was Emma Hudson Clark, 26, of Columbus. The Columbus woman was one of five persons hurt at about 3:15 a. m. Sunday on Route 104 near Route 316, about nine miles northwest of Circleville.

Deputy Carl White said the car in which the woman was riding was operated south by Robert Trowbridge, 25, of Columbus.

FRONT LEFT tire of the car apparently blew out, White said, throwing the car out of control. The car swerved into a field and then travelled 138 feet before crashing into a tree stump.

Impact of the crash threw a 11 five occupants of the car out into the ground.

The woman was rushed into Berger hospital for emergency treatment and then transferred to University hospital, Columbus, where she died at 8 p. m. Sunday. She suffered a crushed chest, internal injuries and a fractured left ankle.

Trowbridge, the driver, suffered a fractured left arm, fractured left leg and lacerations. Other passengers were Sam Tucker, 17, raw gasoline burns and chest injuries; Eugene Dobson, 22, fractured right hip and bruises; and Dixie Lee Halley, 19, fractured right arm, concussion and lacerations.

Four men were injured at about 3 a. m. Sunday on Route 23 at Bell's Siding when an auto operated south by William Akers, 46, of Belleville, Mich., struck a concrete dividing abutment in the underpass. White said the driver apparently had fallen asleep.

Akers suffered chest injuries, punctured lung and fractured ribs. Passengers were Earl Coleman, 25, who suffered a back injury and a lacerated left foot; Robert May, 21, chest injuries, lacerated chin; and Roy Handy, 33, lacerated right eye, contusion of his right ankle.

A CIRCLEVILLE Route 1 girl, Waneta Kuhn, 17, was hurt at about 12:01 p. m. Saturday at the Gold Cliff Park service station on Route 23, four miles south of Circleville. Deputy White said the girl was

Zanesville Cop Kills Man, 28, In Argument

ZANESVILLE (P)—A 28-year-old Zanesville construction worker was shot to death in his home Sunday by a policeman while his brother and fiancée looked on.

Police Chief C. H. Courtney said Carroll C. Chandler was killed while resisting arrest by Patrolman Richard Wise. He absolved Wise of any neglect in the shooting.

Courtney said Wise was on routine patrol when he saw Chandler stumble on the steps of his home. He said "make it." And Chandler cursed him. Wise then attempted to arrest Chandler for intoxication but Chandler ran into the house.

Wise followed and Chandler and his brother, Leonard, struggled with the patrolman, said Courtney, adding that Carroll picked up a flower pot, apparently intending to use it as a weapon.

He said Wise drew his service revolver and Leonard grabbed it and pushed Wise into a window. The gun discharged, shooting Carroll in the chest.

Naomi Gibson, 17, who said she was the dead man's fiancée, was held as a material witness. Leonard Chandler was held under charges of interfering with an officer and resisting arrest.

struck by an auto operated by C. H. Strupper, 45, also of Circleville Route 1, who was turning left into the service station. The girl said she did not see the Strupper car.

She was treated for lacerated left hip, left wrist and left cheek. Three persons were injured at about 7:30 p. m. Sunday at the intersection of Whisler Road and Route 56, about 11 miles east of Circleville.

Deputy Walter Richards said an auto operated east on the Whisler Road by Albert Bell, 20, of Main St., Kingston, failed to negotiate the turn onto 56 and crashed into a tree. Bell said his auto's brakes failed.

Bell suffered lacerations of his head and nose; Thomas Churches, 15, suffered head injuries; and Ruth Ebert, 15, suffered head lacerations.

Solons Make Annual Howl On 'Fast Time'

WASHINGTON (P)—Today is the day when the House makes its annual stand in defense of the sleeping habits of chickens.

Issue is the desire of voteless citizens of the District of Columbia to get up an hour earlier this summer. Daylight saving time began at 2 a. m. Sunday for 60 million Americans.

But not in the nation's capital, where Congress acts as a city council. It's still Eastern Standard Time here.

The Senate already has passed a bill authorizing the District commissioners to move Washington's clocks ahead an hour. But the House didn't get around to debating it until today.

When all the oratorical shooting is over, Congress probably will approve—as it always has — the right of the District to go on fast time if it wants to.

But not before the champions of the barnyard take advantage of the annual April whinnying to get on the good side of the farm folk by denouncing daylight time.

This year some 26 states with large rural populations remained on standard time. They take a dim view of daylight time on the indisputable grounds that milking and roosting habits aren't controlled by the clock.

Midwest barnyards wouldn't be affected by a change in clocks here, but congressmen with rural constituents nonetheless denounce "fast time" on principle.

5 Fleeing Men To Face Hearing

IRONTON (P)—State Highway Patrolmen said they would file charges today against five men captured in a chase by auto and on foot after a $100 restaurant holdup at nearby Oak Hill.

In the Lawrence County jail are Buster and Amos Johnson, brothers of Claypool, Ind.; Ralph Bailey, 17, also of Claypool; Felt Lemaster Jr., of Indiana, and Gordon Gibson, 18, of Goodhue, Ky. They were arrested near Aid, Lawrence County, after an 18-mile chase through roadblocks. Three were found late Saturday near a stolen car after it overturned and ran into a ditch. The others were captured Sunday after an all-night search in the woods.

25 Miners Killed AGANGUEO, Mexico (P)—Rescue teams had hoisted 11 bodies from the smoking mouth of the American Smelting Company silver mine near here early today. They still dug for 14 others listed as dead in a fierce fire Saturday.

Dem Leader Dies WARREN (P)—Mrs. Marie Dickson Low, for eight years Democratic national committeewoman from Ohio, died in her home Sunday. Funeral services will be held Wednesday.

High-Cost U. S. Armament Plants To Be Weeded Out

Korean Truce Talks Deadlock Again As UN Rejects Red Prisoner Plan

PANMUNJOM (P)—The new Korean armistice talks deadlocked again today as the UN Command flatly rejected a Red prisoner exchange proposal which it said offers only return to Communist rule or "endless captivity" for Reds who refuse to go home.

In their second meeting since Oct. 8, both Allied and Communist delegates stood pat on their own plans for settling the exchange problem and writing a truce.

Another session is scheduled for 11 a. m. Tuesday.

The truce talks were broken off Oct. 8 by the UN when it refused to force any prisoner to go home against his will. The Reds demanded all prisoners back, including some 50,000 Chinese and North Koreans who have said they won't go home.

Although the Allies threatened to call off the talks again unless the Reds show willingness to negotiate constructively, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied delegate, said it's "far too early" to think about such a move.

Meanwhile, the Panmunjom gate to freedom for sick and wounded Allied prisoners stood closed by the Reds.

The Communists said Sunday's shipment of 84 disabled Allied prisoners ended their delivery. In seven days they turned back 684 persons—149 Americans, 470 South Korean men and one woman, and 64 disabled prisoners from other nations. They had promised 605.

However, a UN spokesman said "considerably more" sick and wounded Reds would be returned than the 5,800 originally pledged, but he did not give any figure. The transfer of Communists continued at its 500-a-day rate.

In Tokyo, a UN spokesman said the first Americans released would be flown to the U. S. within the next couple of days. He did not give a specific date or number.

At Monday's 52-minute armistice meeting, each side suggested that the other take another careful look at its proposal.

Harrison told newsmen, "In this short time we have no real basis for assuming the Communists will not negotiate in good faith."

A reporter had asked him if the UN was considering a new suspension.

"I think it is far too early to come to any definite conclusion on a matter of that kind," Harrison said. He added that no one can reasonably expect negotiations, where two sides are far apart, to give any clear indications at the start.

Harrison opened the meeting by telling North Korean Gen.

Nam II that a six-point proposal by Nam Sunday was "unreasonable and obstructive."

He later said bluntly that the proposal was "unacceptable" and that the Communists "have proposed nothing which we can consider as either a reasonable or constructive basis for an armistice agreement."

Nam devoted his remarks to a restatement of the Communist proposal. It calls for:

1. Within two months after an armistice, repatriating those prisoners who want to go home.
2. Within another month, sending to a neutral state, to be chosen by the negotiators, all who refuse to go home.
3. Six months for making "explanations" to the refusing prisoners by representatives of their homelands.

4. Sending home those who change their minds.

5. If there are still some left who refuse repatriation, leaving their fate up to a high-level post-armistice political conference.

6. All expenses of prisoners held in a neutral state to be paid by their homelands.

To this plan, Harrison said: "It is a proposal for the prisoners' indefinite retention. Many of those men have been held in custody unnecessarily for nearly two years as a result of the unwillingness of your side to recognize their attitude. These captured personnel have the right to be released from custody as soon after an armistice as is practicable."

The excess profits levy is scheduled to die July 1 and income taxes are due to drop 10 per cent next Jan. 1. A bill pending in the House would advance the date to July 1.

"We'll be all right, though. We'll balance the budget and we'll reduce taxes too," Millikin declared.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) said he believes a cut of $6 billion or more can be realized "without crippling the defense program or destroying the foreign aid program." But he didn't see much chance of keeping taxes at present levels.

And there was evidence that a stiff fight is developing over reported administration proposals to cut sharply the $2.7 billion that former President Truman proposed be spent on atomic energy development in the year beginning July 1.

Taft, Republican leader, said he agrees with Byrd that the budget can be balanced. But he declined to discuss details of the Virginian's proposal to trim $6.8 billion off Truman's spending program.

TAFT SAID some figures may be forthcoming when legislative leaders discuss the defense program with President Eisenhower at a White House conference Thursday. The Ohioan has called for a cut of about $4 billion in defense and about $2½ billion in foreign aid.

Byrd would keep defense spending at its present level and cut foreign aid $2.9 billion.

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, wouldn't comment on Byrd's proposal.

Retired Army Chief Cited In Iran Murder

TEHRAN (P)—Iran's government today blamed a group of retired army officers and government opponents for the murder of National Police Chief Brig. Gen. Mahmood Afshartus, found strangled in a roadside grave Sunday.

A communique issued by Col. Hosseingholi Ashrafi, military governor of Tehran, said the names of the alleged slayers and those who plotted the crime would be disclosed later.

The communique said investigation and confessions of those responsible had led to the discovery of Afshartus' body six days after his mysterious disappearance in the heart of Tehran.

The body was found several miles northeast of the capital in a shallow grave. A rope was around his neck, his hands and feet were bound and his mouth was stuffed with handkerchiefs.

Medical examiners said he had died at least four days earlier, probably by strangulation.

The military governor named only one of those allegedly responsible for Afshartus' murder. He was Hossein Khatibi, to whose home, it was charged, Afshartus was invited just before he dropped from sight.

The invitation was accepted, the communique indicated, because Afshartus thought he was mediating between the Mossadegh regime and a parliament member recently at odds with the premier.

Nation's Munitions Setup Facing Entire Procurement Approach

WASHINGTON (P)—Roger M. Kyes, deputy secretary of defense, said today the Eisenhower administration will review the whole munitions picture and weed out high-cost arms plants to keep America strong in peace and war.

"Fantastic," Kyes called some of the planning done by the former Truman administration. A speech he prepared for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention here contained the sharpest criticism to come so far from the new administration of the Truman regime's rearmament program.

The No. 2 man in the Defense Department announced:

"Because in some instances the mobilization base is too widely diffused, there will be situations where a sufficient quantity of the item manufactured is not required to maintain a minimum economic production flow in all facilities."

"In these cases, certain of the facilities will be forced to stop production, and where necessary for the maintenance of the mobilization base, arrangements will be made for standby, while in others, the tools will be handled in such a manner as to assure their availability."

"THE GENERAL policy will be that of retaining the low-cost producer of desired goods, as against the high-cost producer."

But Kyes also said "careful consideration" would be given to preserving industries vital to defense which do not have full opportunity in civilian economy, noting that "the aircraft industry is an example of this type."

This major policy statement by Kyes presumably reflected the current views of Secretary of Defense Wilson, who has been in Europe. Both men are former top executives of General Motors.

A month ago Wilson was known to be questioning the wisdom of the "broad case" mobilization program instituted by the former administration.

The key defense official used sharp words in talking of the rearmament program started with the beginning of the Korean War in 1950—"fantastic paper targets, exaggerated figures, poor planning and inefficient execution."

He cited as examples: "One mobilization plan resulted in requirements over and above assets on hand which would cost 330 billion dollars for hard goods alone." And: "Most of us would question the combat capabilities of a year's surplus of calculating machines."

He declared:

"WE HAVE BEEN and are paying dearly for two mistaken con-

Cop Gets Shiner, Calls Sheriff

LIMA (P)—What does a police chief do if someone blacks his eye?

"Just what any other citizen would do," said Lima Police Chief Kermit Westbay, tenderly massaging a massive shiner on his left eye. "I called the sheriff."

Westbay followed through with an assault and battery charge against Richard Garee, 23, of Lakeview, Logan County. Justice Frank Killian released Garee under $50 bond. The black eye came Sunday at Westbay's filling station on U. S. 30, south. The chief said he tried to quiet a disturbance.

Sends Telegram, 'Collects' $2000

CLEVELAND (P)—The strange man in the Western Union branch office carefully selected a telegram Sunday night. It read: "Happy birthday and many more."

Then he wrote a Chicago address on it and handed the greeting to the night manager, Mrs. Betty F. Janice, 46. That done, he walked through the swinging gate and leveled a gun at the cashier, Mrs. Lois Newcomer, 24. Detectives estimated today he got away with $2,000.

Accord Reached

CLEVELAND (P)—The Nickel Plate Road and Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen reached agreement today in a dispute that twice in the last month was within eight hours of becoming a strike.

ceptions with respect to national security. First: unsound and unrealistic calculations and requirements for materials, equipment and supplies on the part of the military. Second: a neglect of the needs of a minimum military posture in time of peace."

He summed up his views on a mobilization base this way:

When choosing an organization "large or small" to comprise the mobilization base, Kyes said, there are six criteria: (1) it must have the management and technical knowledge required; (2) it must have adequate capacity;

(3) it must have enough capital so as not to be fully dependent on federal aid; (4) manpower must be available; (5) generally, no facility should fall below requirements for a minimum economic unit; (6) it should not be given more defense business than it can handle efficiently—up to three or four times its civilian dollar volume.

"An effective base for industrial mobilization is essential," as well as a minimum stockpile of material. We must maintain a careful balance between weapons that are immediately required if war occurs and the lead items necessary to produce in quantity weapons of proven design from existing or readily available capacity.

"Technological progress with respect to new weapons and equipment makes this a desirable policy, rather than risk the stockpiling of end items which deteriorate, or quickly become outmoded and obsolete."

A basic problem in munitions production, he said, is that civilians "cut the military to the bone in time of peace" and the military always calls for more than it needs in time of war.

To avoid waste and inefficiency, he said, both segments must practice restraint.

Two Blazes Blamed On Rubbish Fires

Rubbish fires resulted in two calls for Cincinnati fire department Sunday.

At 9:05 a. m., firefighters answered an alarm at a building housing Replogle Construction Co. and Dean's Potato Chips on W. High St.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said a rubbish blaze, aided by a strong wind, had spread to the roof of the brick structure. Damage, confined almost entirely to the roof, was estimated at $200.

At 8:25 p. m., the department was called to extinguish a blaze in an alley just off N. Court St., between Main and Watt. Wise said a rubbish fire set fire to a wooden fence.

Two Local Drivers Fined By Court

Two motorists were fined a total of $35 and costs last weekend in the court of Magistrate Oscar Root.

Ervin E. Young, 30, of 346 Barnes Ave., was fined $25 and costs for reckless driving. He was arrested on Route 23 by Deputy Carl White.

Russell Courts Jr., 18, of Cincinnati Route 3, was fined $10 and costs Saturday for crossing a yellow line. Deputy White arrested him on Route 23, north of Cincinnati.

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (U-P)—Grains and soybean futures opened strong on the Board of Trade today. Corn was up as much as a cent a bushel and soybeans as much as 1 1/4 cents.

A bullish influence in corn was the Department of Agriculture announcement that it will extend for one year loans on the 1952 corn crop. This will permit farmers to keep their corn on farms through July 31, 1954, unless the government decides to make them mature earlier.

Wheat opened 3/4 to 3/8 higher, May $2.20 to $2.20 1/2, corn was up 1/4 to 1 cent, May $1.57 1/2 to $1.59, oats were 1/4 to 3/8 higher, May 74 1/2 to 75, and soybeans were 1/4 to 1 1/4 higher, May $3.07 to $3.06 1/2.

6 School Kiddies Killed By Volcano

TOKYO (U-P)—Aso volcano erupted thunderously today, killing at least six of 400 school children peering into its depths.

One hundred children were reported injured in Aso's first eruption in 20 years. The youngsters were on an excursion inside the 15-mile-wide great crater of 5,267-foot Mt. Aso on Kyushu, Japan's southernmost island. They were looking into one of five volcanic peaks inside the gaping crater when it awakened with a smoking roar, blasting rocks wildly into the air. Some were the size of a man's head.

Wallace Says Court Legislation May Not Clear Before Primary

Ed Wallace, Pickaway County state representative, said a bill to establish a municipal court in Cincinnati may not be passed until after the May 5 primary election. However, he repeated assurance the measure will roll through the 100th General Assembly in the near future.

Wallace explained the bill is still in sub-committee and probably won't be returned to the judiciary committee until the early part of this week. It had been sent to sub-committee to double check on provisions designed to put the plan into effect here Jan. 1, 1954.

Wallace indicated he isn't sure as to when the measure will come up for final action in the assembly, though stressing that no serious delays are anticipated. He had previously expressed belief the legislation could be cleared before the primary election.

Meanwhile, Mayor Ed Amey said he was exploring technical questions involved if the municipal court set-up fails to clear its final hurdle before the primaries. He is on record as saying he will withdraw from his campaign for re-election when it becomes definite the municipal court is going into operation here next year.

WALLACE SAID he is under the impression Amey plans to take a delegation to Columbus to oppose approval of the bill. However, the state representative said he doesn't know just what effort this group intends to make.

A hearing on the measure before the judiciary committee—described at the time as the only public hearing planned on the proposal—was held several weeks ago.

Amey said Monday he has made no arrangements for any delegation.

Amey is a candidate for re-election and will be opposed on the Republican ticket in the primaries by Dr. Robert Hedges, optometrist. The Mayor said he is seeking legal advice as to what technicalities would be brought into existence if he is successful in the primaries before the city court plan becomes definite.

Ten Motorists Are Fined $160 And Costs Here

Ten motorists were fined a total of $160 and costs last weekend before the court of Mayor Ed Amey for minor traffic violations.

Russell Smith, 18, of Stoutsville, was fined $25 and costs for speeding at 75 and Paul Wood, 18, of 212 E. Mill St., was fined $20 and costs for speeding at 70. Both youths were arrested by State Patrolman Bob Greene.

Four motorists were arrested during the weekend for disregarding stop signs at Route 104 and 56. Charles Elkins, 50, of near Orient, John Guthrie and John Sturgeon, both of West Virginia, were fined $15 and costs for the violations, and Robert Bigelow, 28, of Lansing, Mich., was fined $10 and costs for the infraction. Guthrie and Sturgeon were arrested by State Patrolman Gene Miller and the other pair was arrested by Patrolman Greene.

Gerald Bales, 18, of Lancaster, was fined $10, costs suspended, for driving without sufficient lights. He was arrested by Patrolman Greene.

Henry Sharp, 19, of Oakwood, was fined $15 and costs for crossing a yellow line. He was arrested by Patrolman Greene.

James Jeffers and Matt Justice, both of Columbus, were fined for crossing yellow lines on Route 23. Jeffers was fined $15 and costs and Justice was fined $20 and costs. Both were arrested by Patrolman Miller.

CLARENCE Olden's band of Columbus, the former Earl Hood band, will play for the round dancing and another organization will alternate for square dancing.

Dress is optional for the affair, and any county junior or senior may invite one guest for the dancing program. Pickaway County Agricultural Society has donated use of the Coliseum for the evening.

34 Die In Ohio Week End Mishaps

COLUMBUS (U-P)—Thirty-four persons were killed in accidents in Ohio during the week end, the worst toll so far this year.

Spring weather sent thousands onto highways. Traffic accidents killed 31. Three persons drowned.

Twenty persons were killed Saturday, 17 in traffic accidents, to set a record for a single day in the state this year. The State Highway Patrol said wet roads were partly to blame for 13 more fatal accidents Sunday. One was killed Friday night.

Senate Panel Gives Botts OK

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved President Eisenhower's nomination of Howard C. Botts of Wilmington, O., to be U. S. marshal for Southern Ohio.

Approval of Botts' nomination was held up several weeks ago after William Sweet, juvenile court probation officer in Clinton County, filed an objection, criticizing Botts' conduct while sheriff.

Chairman Langer (R-ND) of the Judiciary Committee sent an investigator to Wilmington to check on the complaint. Committee approval followed submission of a report by the investigator to the committee. This report has not been made public.

DEATHS And Funerals

MRS. VIOLET E. GLOYD

Mrs. Violet Esther Gloyd, 29, of Ashville, died at 5:45 p. m. Saturday in her home.

Mrs. Gloyd was born April 26, 1923, in Pickaway County, daughter of Reed and Eva Baldwin Gloyd.

She is survived by her parents of Ashville; a son, Ronald Lee Gloyd at home; a sister, Mrs. Ray Wagner of Ashville; a half sister, Retha Jane Gloyd of Ashville and three brothers, Chester Gloyd, Reed Gloyd Jr. and Ralph Gloyd, all of Ashville.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in Ashville EUB church with the Rev. Earl Anderson officiating. Burial will be in the Harrison Township cemetery, by direction of Bastian Funeral Home.

Friends may call in the residence of Mrs. Ray Wagner, Ashville.

Men's Glee Club Concert To Be Heard Tuesday

Capital University Men's Glee Club will present a concert at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the parish house of Trinity Lutheran church.

The Glee Club, three-time winner of the Ohio Intercollegiate glee club contest, includes two young Cincinnati men.

They are Edward Wolf and James Bartholomew, former outstanding musicians in Cincinnati High School and now attending Capital.

A feature of the concert program will be a piano solo, "Rhapsody in C," presented by Miss Beatrice Peterson of Xenia. The program is directed by Prof. Wilbur Crist.

Legion Corps Set For 2 Engagements

Cincinnati's American Legion drum and bugle corps has scheduled the 72 engagement listed for the outfit since it was organized in the Fall of 1949.

At 2 p. m. Sunday, the corps will participate in a parade in Bainbridge, one of the main events in that community's annual open house celebration.

Two hours later, the corps will stage an exhibition for the "Hospital Day" observance at Chillicothe Veterans' hospital. In its workout at Chillicothe, the Legion unit will use some of the maneuvers it will show in competition this Summer.

Four competitive events already have been listed, beginning July 4.

Red Fliers Offered Reward For Jets

TOKYO (U-P)—The Allied high command tonight offered $100,000 to the first Communist flier to land his Russian-made jet in South Korea.

Radio appeals and leaflets carried the message in the Russian, Chinese and Korean languages.

In a move unprecedented in the Korean War, the command promised political asylum for the first flier to come over and any others who would follow. Those who follow would get $50,000.

Chief Critic Of Trade Bill Says He Will Relax Attacks

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) said today he is willing to drop a controversial provision in his reciprocal trade bill which would bar any lowering of tariffs to levels found to imperil American industry.

Simpson's new stand seemed likely to go a long way toward averting a sharp, open clash between President Eisenhower and key House Republicans on the touchy issue of tariffs.

The Pennsylvania congressman disclosed his position as the House Ways and Means Committee prepared to open hearings today on his bill to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year beyond June 12.

This week's witnesses are from groups which support high protective tariffs. The leadoff witness was O. R. Strackbein, speaking for a committee of industry, agriculture and labor on import-export policy.

THE ISSUE, which often stirs a party-splitting fight in Congress, is especially important this year. Many U. S. allies and some administration leaders have been urging a relaxing of tariffs and trade barriers to permit foreign countries to sell more goods here on the theory of "trade—not aid."

Under the present law, the president has power to negotiate new tariffs below levels determined by the Tariff Commission to constitute a danger to American industry.

Further, the president can set

U.S. Chamber Chief Sees Big Federal Move

WASHINGTON (U-P)—President Laurence F. Lee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce today forecast "sweeping decentralization" of the government.

Lee, of Jacksonville, Fla., told delegates at the opening of the Chamber's 41st annual meeting that the Eisenhower administration respects "business brains and business ability."

The new leadership in Washington, he said, tries to encourage competitive private enterprise, and so "business can operate with a more confident sense of direction."

"A sweeping decentralization of the federal government is in the making," Lee said.

"We can be sure that from it will develop great opportunities and responsibilities for our state, local and national Chambers."

"It is entirely probable that some of our private volunteer organizations will be shouldering certain functions and services now administered by federal bureaus."

"Many millions of tax dollars can be released for creative and productive purposes by reducing the scope of federal authority, for waste is inherent in all highly centralized governments. So is corruption."

DeGaulle Loses In French Polls

PARIS (U-P)—French voters turned their backs on Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Rally of the French People in municipal elections Sunday. At the same time, the Communists just about held their own in the working class districts of the big cities, but lost votes and control of some town halls in rural areas.

Newest City Paper Employs Startling Business Methods

Extraordinary business methods which could revolutionize the nation's newspaper field are seen as basis of success for The Circleville News—one of the city's latest and most startling publications.

Typical of its unique approach to the reading public, The News hit the streets here with a four-page edition in which pages one and four were left blank. Students of modern typographical format see in this a shrewd lure for readers who can't see what's inside the paper until they buy it.

Under its traditional logo, The News wastes no time with headlines after telling the customers what sheet they're reading. Instead, in the April 18 edition, it immediately and flatly proclaims:

"Mrs. Sheets of E. Franklin St. bought our 8 Easter chicks. We are in the rabbit business now!"

THIS IS frequently called the advertising teaser, since only by waiting for the following issue could readers determine whether Mrs. Sheets also bought the rabbits. And The News does not let you ponder the possibilities. Instead it goes on, in a direct, down-to-earth manner:

"Cub Scout Pack 5 put on an old time black face minstrel at the Presbyterian church Thursday night. The boys taking part were David McDonald, Billy White, Johnny Adkins, Dave Coddle and Joe Schneider."

Nowhere is there lost motion in this aggressive news-writing style. And nowhere is there any tendency to linger over the minstrel show. The News proposes to give the news—period.

"Mrs. Martha Funk came home from the hospital," the paper continues. "Welcome home Mrs. Funk! Brenda Mary Johnson is six years old today—she had a birthday party at kindergarten yesterday. Anita Lee Hendrickson could not be there because she has the measles."

Prominent among the ads is the announcement that one grocery is so far ahead of other food dealers that there isn't much use talking about it. In fact, The News doesn't talk about it—leaving the impact of this all-out advertising to bring in the buying public, and perhaps net a handout over the candy counter to the publishers.

Swinging back to the news of the day, the city's latest journalistic venture assures its readers:

"Mrs. Doris Krieger is the new nurse helping Mrs. Scott at the Home and Hospital. She is spending the weekend with her daughter and family, Mrs. Ed Valentine of Stoutsville."

THIS, FOR A newspaper of letter-writing paper size, would be a noteworthy budget of daily news, but the publication still has time for a human interest touch and ends up vigorously with a warning to motorists. The punch paragraphs read this-a-way:

"We hope the snow and ice does not kill Mrs. Mader's pretty magnolia tree."

"Do not double park today for the police are busy tagging cars!"

Origin of The News was "spontaneous" when Brad Schneider, Gary Buskirk and Joe Schneider decided the Southern Ohio newspaper field needed more competition. Copies are run off on a hectograph

"Go to sleep... you'll know what 14-K is, next week."

in a strictly temporary plant, and the circulation has already climbed to 24.

Illustrating the business acumen behind the rapid success of this new enterprise is the following conversation between a subscriber and roving utility representative:

"How much is your paper?"

"Three cents, ma'am."

"Well, here's five cents."

"Do you have another penny, ma'am?"

"Why yes, I do—but you said only three cents."

"That's true, ma'am, but with this extra penny it makes six cents, and that gives you two papers instead of one."

It could not be learned immediately whether this is regarded as a shady practice by the American Newspaper Publishers Association. Large city dailies, however, privately admitted they would like to try the same thing.

Mother Admits Killing Tot, 2

KENTON (AP)—Kenton police held Mrs. Wilma Shaw, 24, who they say confessed killing her 2-year-old son Donald. Mrs. Shaw's husband, Richard, 26, was also held. No charges have been filed.

Police said Mrs. Shaw admitted killing the child by beating and kicking him in a fit of anger because she said he loved her husband more than her.

City Residents, Concerns Asked To Help Adjustment Of Sewers

Ervin Leist, manager of Circleville's water and sewage department, Monday listed important regulations on the use of the city sewer system. City expansion planners have long recognized that success of their efforts will depend largely on the ability of the sewer network to stand the strain of a larger municipality.

It was this realization in part that led city officials to approve plans for a general survey of the sewer system by a Columbus firm of consulting engineers.

Calling attention to certain abuses in use of sewer facilities here, Leist reminded business firms and home owners that City Ordinance 2023 prescribes the proper uses of that type of service. He asked for general cooperation.

Ignorance or neglect of these regulations, he warned, have brought about problems that may seriously handicap city expansion blueprints, as well as the city's rating under state anti-pollution standards.

FOR DOMESTIC purposes, to tap any sewer requires a special permit, issued by the service director. Actual installation of the tap, or connection, is a function of the department of public service. No other person, firm or corporation is authorized to do that specific part of a sewer installation.

The only wastes permitted to be discharged to the sanitary sewer system are defined in Section 3, of Ordinance No. 2023 as follows:

"Sewage, including wastes from water closets, urinals, lavatories, sinks, bath tubs, showers, laundries, cellar floor drains, garage floor drains, bars, soda fountains, cuspidors, drinking fountains, and other objectionable wastes shall be discharged only into sanitary, or combined, sewer, and in no case into a storm sewer."

Section 3 of the same ordinance further prescribes: "Surface water, rain water from roofs, subsoil drainage, building foundation drainage, cistern overflow, clean water from condensers and air conditioners, and any other clean and unobjectionable waste water shall be discharged into a storm sewer (or combined) and in no case into a sanitary sewer. . . .

"Connection from a cesspool, septic tank, or privy vault shall not be made into any sewer whatsoever."

"A trap for the interception of grease and/or oil shall be provided on a connection from a hotel, factory, grain mill and/or elevator, restaurant, club, or institutional kitchen and from a public garage, filling station, or automobile washing station. Such trap shall be subject to approval of the director of public service. . . .

"It shall be unlawful for any person, or persons, to discharge into a house sewer or to tap a house sewer for the purpose of discharging into it, any waste or drainage water prohibited by the provisions of this section. Any existing connection in violation of the provisions of this section shall be abandoned and/or removed."

SECTION 6 PROVIDES that: "Any person, firm or corporation who violates any provision of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than five dollars nor more than $100 for each offense, and a separate offense shall be deemed to have been committed each period of 24 hours such violation shall continue after a period of 30 days after the original conviction."

Leist said every home owner and business establishment should check drainage systems to avoid a penalty for any of the listed abuses. Any violations of the existing regulations will be revealed in the course of the survey already started.

British Guiana Election Booked

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana. —This small British colony on South America's north coast voted today in its first parliamentary elections under a new constitution.

Twenty-four members are to be picked from 131 candidates for four-year terms in the lower House of Assembly.

Abolition of literacy and property ownership voting requirements and the granting of voting rights to women were expected to bring out some 200,000 voters, a vast increase over the 25,000 or so who have voted in previous elections.

The nine members of the upper house, the State Council, will be appointed by the British governor.

Strike Flops

DAYTON (AP)—A scheduled strike of guards at the Monsanto Chemical Co.'s Mound Atomic Energy Commission plant was called off Sunday. The guards voted to continue working because of the "war effort."

Marriage Lasts For 77 Years

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Death has ended one of the world's oldest marriages.

The husband, Nils P. Jonsson, died yesterday at Asmundtorp, in South Sweden. His widow, Bothilda, is 103. Neither had ever been outside their tiny home village.

They were married 77 years ago, on April 12, 1876, the same year Gen. George Custer was massacred by Sitting Bull's Indian tribesmen.

One daughter born to the couple is still living. She is now 70. Two others have died.

Pentagon Tightens Security Rulings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even the military's top public relations officials may be left in the dark about some defense developments under a new Pentagon security order effective today.

The order was issued by Roger Kyes, acting secretary of defense during Charles E. Wilson's absence in Europe, and follows by one month Wilson's tightening up of information outlets to keep secrets from leaking.

The new directive says, in effect, that only officials authorized to know will be permitted to pass security data on to anybody else. The person who gives the information, not the one who receives it, will be responsible for deciding whether he should do so.

Sohio servicemen are thoroughly familiar with the lubrication points on all cars, and they have exactly the summer-grade lubricant your car needs.

SOHIO COOLING SYSTEM SPECIAL

The U. S. Bureau of Standards* warns, "UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES SHOULD ANTIFREEZE SOLUTION REMAIN IN THE COOLING SYSTEM DURING THE SUMMER. . . ." To help you heed this warning, Sohio will drain out your old antifreeze and refill your radiator with fresh water. And as further protection against corrosion, Sohio offers this "Cooling System Special"—a 65¢ can of radiator protector for only 47¢. This offer expires June 1st.

*U. S. Bureau of Standards Bulletin No. 506

With these three Sohio services, you're sure your car has the care and attention it needs most in the Spring. And your Sohio station is ready to provide these services now.

Panel Cautions On Red Gestures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet spy activity in the U. S. and other free countries might be stepped up behind the cloak of Russian peace overtures, says a Senate foreign relations subcommittee.

The subcommittee report, compiled before last week's statements in the Kremlin-controlled Moscow press, was published Saturday.

In it, Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) cautioned against friendly gestures by the Russians. He said they may be "but one of the zig-zagging phases" to be followed by "open antagonism."

The Moscow newspapers pictured Russia as sticking to its foreign policy but with a readiness for "businesslike" discussions with the West.

New Loyalty Program Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's conference with three of Congress' top searchers for subversion today may bring out details of a new federal employee loyalty program.

Atty. Gen. Brownell, invited to attend the conference along with Rep. Velde (R-Ill), Senators McCarthy (R-Wis) and Jenner (R-Ind) and other congressional leaders, said in a radio interview last night the White House will announce details of the new program soon.

The prosperity might not last if the Eisenhower administration was not wise enough to do all the right things as they needed to be done, perhaps one at a time, over a number of years.

But at least with prosperity there was no crisis at home. That may explain why, in domestic problems, Eisenhower has acted at times less like a leader and more like a partner of Congress.

In foreign affairs he has followed almost rigidly a policy laid down by Truman. Some few changes he has made seem small now, but may be so profound in the long run as to be the basis upon which Eisenhower's first 100 days eventually will be judged.

He plans to back the French more fully in their war with the Communists in Indochina. Long after the Korean War is over that may be the key to blocking Communist expansion in Asia.

While his administration is talking about reduced foreign aid and defense spending, Eisenhower has cautioned that neither this country nor its allies should relax defense efforts simply because the Russians are making peaceful sounds.

Yet the Russian peace maneuver may have been a factor in persuading the Eisenhower administration it is time now to cut foreign aid and defense spending. If the Russians were acting warlike, it's certain the cuts would not be proposed.

German Press Irks McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has complained that some of 96 German newspapers receiving U. S. financial aid have been "highly critical" of President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and himself.

In a letter to Dulles Saturday, McCarthy said two investigators he sent to Europe, Roy Cohn and David Schine, had uncovered this and other data. Cohn and Schine are employed by the investigations committee McCarthy heads.

McCarthy said the funds were supplied the newspapers through the State Department's international information program to make sure the German people were kept abreast of U. S. foreign policy. Instead, he said, some of the papers criticized "President Eisenhower, yourself and the undersigned."

THE SUPERIOR SEX

WE'VE NOW GONE FULL circle on the question of who wears the pants of modern civilization. When author Philip Wylie introduced the concept of "momism" in the late thirties, suggesting that ours was a matriarchal society with the ladies calling the turn, he was greeted with sneers of derision. Even when it was statistically shown that women owned the greatest proportion of American wealth, the superior male animal was still unmoved.

"Why shouldn't this be so," he snapped, "considering that we guys work ourselves into an early grave to gratify our women's every whim?"

Such self-justifying logic doesn't impress a British anthropologist who has just written a book contending that the female is, indeed, the stronger of the species. The scientist was attracted to the hypothesis 30 years ago when he observed that men's skulls were more ape-like than women's. Since then he has been assembling evidence to attest to "The Natural Superiority of Women"—as his volume is called.

He says that women are more intelligent, healthier and more emotionally stable than men. They recover faster from shock and illness and have shown considerably more durability than men in surviving such ordeals as concentration camp imprisonment and wartime bombings.

It's the author's thesis that childbearing has been the controlling factor in making women the superior sex. Men, he concludes, ought to acknowledge this supremacy and make the necessary adjustments. When the American man put woman on a pedestal, little did he realize that it was there she belonged all the time.

Thirty-four million American men are too fat, it is alleged. Those who made the survey evidently didn't have the courage to count women.

A statesman has been defined as a politician who is held upright by equal pressure from both sides.

There is reported to be a shortage of scientist in the United States. Also of left-handed pitchers with control.

Russia will be deviating from the Stalin line for a fact if it goes through with its announced intention to emphasize the love theme in future movies. "Good Ole Joe" always emphasized the "America is an ogre" theme.

These Days

The concessions made at Panmunjom are of great significance because should Russia reverse her policy from somewhat more friendly to altogether antagonistic, the Kremlin would have the advantage. What these concessions are, the American people do not know. The Eisenhower Administration can only be held responsible for what occurs after January 20, 1953.

One of the worst resolutions related to this subject was proposed in the United Nations on November 17, 1952, by India. A compromise plan was accepted by the United Nations General Assembly on December 3. The Indian resolution was opposed by Soviet Russia and Soviet China although India must be regarded as having favored both these countries. It was accepted by the United States to which India is antagonistic. The probability is that the Indian resolution was a trick to bind the United States while leaving Russia free to pursue her own course.

The original Indian proposal, which was eventually revised, was that all Korean War prisoners be repatriated after an armistice.

Repatriation be arranged by a commission of two Communist states (Czechoslovakia and Poland) and two neutral nations (Sweden and Switzerland) with an "umpire" named by the General Assembly if the Repatriation Commission deadlocked after three weeks of talk.

Status of prisoners not determined by the Repatriation Commission 90 days after an armistice should be referred to a political conference called under the draft armistice pact already agreed upon by both sides at Panmunjom.

Senator William F. Knowland, the most expert Senator in Far Eastern affairs, opposed this resolution. On this subject, on November 28, 1952, I wrote:

"The State Department could not accept this proposal without outraging every sentiment in the United States. The Indians modified their formula to meet American objections and the Russians rejected the whole business. The Conservative government of Great Britain is being pressed to the wall by Leftist opinion in Great Britain, which is not only anti-American but would placate Soviet Russia in the hope that East-West trade may save the British economy which is in a shatterable condition."

"This is a tough situation of our own making. Carelessly, the State Department and President Truman have pursued a course the end of which can only be defeat. President-elect Eisenhower and his Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, may have a plan for saving our dignity and honor, but it will be extremely difficult. The danger is that before the new Administration takes over, the situation can become worse."

What has been done during the 18 months of conversation at Panmunjom has been withheld from the American people. That concessions of a permanent nature have been made is reported, but the details have been withheld for security reasons, which is nonsense because both the Russian and Chinese governments are familiar with them, having been parties to the negotiations. The "security" element in this is (Continued on Page Eleven)

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

I PULLED the girl down on top of me, but she drove her knees into my stomach like runaway pistons until I rolled over and got her beneath me. There was no sound from her during this, only the hissing, gasping noise of her breathing, and a low, animal-like moan that seemed to be forced through clenched teeth. Finally, I got both of her hands in mine and rolled her onto her stomach, locking her arms behind her back. She tried to twist away from me, but I tightened the grip on her arms, and put my weight down on the back of her flailing legs.

"Cut it out," I said. "Stop it." There wasn't much point to her efforts now, but she kept at it desperately, swearing in a low, rasping voice. I twisted her wrists until she stopped swearing and began to whimper softly, the struggling less stopped, and her body went limp.

I let her go and stood up slowly, prepared for another explosion, but she lay still, crying quietly. I snapped on the desk lamp.

She was lying with her cheek pressed to the carpet, her arms sprawled at her sides, a slim red-head in a black suit and ankle-strap sandals.

She was the girl from the Star, the bouncy, excitable Margo.

I knelt beside her and turned her over on her back.

"What do you want here?"

"You've got to help. Please." The bouncy gaiety was gone; she trembled uncontrollably, her face strained and white. "I'll do anything you want, anything."

Then I got it. The hopped-up excitement and now this desperation added up to only one thing: addict.

"You need a shot, eh?"

"Please, help me." She struggled to a sitting position and caught my hands. "I'll take care of you, do anything you want."

"What's the matter? Broke?"

She began to cry. "They keep me that way. My salary used to cover it, but they've jacked up the prices. It's pay up or go without it."

"How much do you need?"

"Seventy-five dollars. I'll—I'll make it up to you if you help me."

I thought it over for a few seconds, while she watched me as gladiators must have watched Roman emperors who could save or destroy them with the gesture of a perfumed hand. Finally I said, "I'll help you if you play ball with me, Margo."

"Anything, I told you that."

"Okay, you'll get the dough. But I want the truth from you, and some help."

"You're not lying to me?"

"No, you can trust me. First, what are you doing here?"

"I used to give Janey information to pick up extra cash," she said, holding my hands now with the strength of a frightened child. "I had to have the money, and she was good for it."

"What kind of information?"

"Anything about dope. Names, addresses, the price I paid for it."

"And why did you come here tonight?"

"She kept the information in a book. I thought if I could find it—" She shook her head. "I was grabbing at straws. I thought I could sell it, or something."

"What do you get the stuff from?"

"A guy named Joe. That's all I know about him. I call him, and he meets me."

"Okay, get up, Margo." She stood and leaned against me weakly. "You got to help me," she said. "You promised."

"Don't worry," I said. "You'll get the dough."

That calmed her down. I went over and looked through Janey's desk, thumbing correspondence, bills, shopping lists. "What kind of a book was it?" I asked.

"A loose leaf folder with black covers."

My search was pointless, I knew. The person who'd been here before me had been on his way out when I arrived. That meant he'd got what he wanted, and that was probably Janey's book.

I went into the bedroom, snapped on a light and found my grip. When I came back I touched the red-head's arm. "Let's go."

We went down to the street and started for the nearest intersection.

"The money. What about it?" the red-head said, in a tight, pleading voice.

"You're going to earn it," I said. "I got to have the shot first. I wouldn't be any good to you now."

"That's not what I've got in mind. Now listen hard. We're going to a drug store. You call Joe, tell him to meet you with the stuff. Got that?"

"What about the money?"

"You'll have it. You tell Joe this. Tell him the last stuff he gave you made you sick. Got that? It made you sick. You went to a doctor and he said you'd been poisoned. Understand?"

"You're pushing me into trouble. They—they'll cut me off if I lie to them."

"The deal is off then," I said. She caught my arm, digging her nails into my flesh. "No, you promised. I'll do what you want."

I'd never been any madder. At the rack I had her on, at the men who'd built that rack. "Okay, you tell him the stuff made you sick, that's all."

"I'll tell him. I'll tell him what you want."

We caught a cab to a drug store, and Margo made her call. It was a quick one, and I stood in the door of the phone booth, listening to it. She said, "Joe, it's Margo. Meet me at Elm and Michigan. Yeah, I got it." Her voice went up a notch, and I saw her knuckles whiten on the phone. "Honest, Joe, I got it, honest."

After that she hung up, and went outside. I knew where Elm and Michigan was, just a block from my hotel.

After that she hung up, and went outside. I knew where Elm and Michigan was, just a block from my hotel.

"The deal is off then," I said. She caught my arm, digging her nails into my flesh. "No, you promised. I'll do what you want."

I'd never been any madder. At the rack I had her on, at the men who'd built that rack. "Okay, you tell him the stuff made you sick, that's all."

"I'll tell him. I'll tell him what you want."

We caught a cab to a drug store, and Margo made her call. It was a quick one, and I stood in the door of the phone booth, listening to it. She said, "Joe, it's Margo. Meet me at Elm and Michigan. Yeah, I got it." Her voice went up a notch, and I saw her knuckles whiten on the phone. "Honest, Joe, I got it, honest."

This is it! Now the icebox raider (every family has at least one) can make his—or her—between-meals sorties on the refrigerator, fearlessly and out in the open. For further details read on—

Meanwhile, better step aside so you won't be crushed in the rush to see if there's any lunch time salami left in the cooler!

Dr. Frederick J. Stare, Harvard School of Health research scientist, has just become the patron saint of all midnight snackers.

The good doctor has up and announced that eating between meals makes it easier for the hopelessly hungry to keep their waist line down! If this be treason, make the most of it—but kindly hand us the boloney and don't be so remiss with the swiss!

The Harvard savant says that by indulging in occasional bites between meals we can drive that ed, "by making a small profit on our employees' personal telephone calls."

"I've noticed," observes Fred Allen, "that certain movie stars wear their dark glasses even to church. Maybe they're afraid the Lord might ask them for autographs!"

needle on the bathroom scale from left to right.

At first glance that statement may sound to the uninitiated as something Einstein might have dreamed up. It's really as simple as apple pie (any left from last night, Mom?)

Dr. Stare says that by nibbling between meals a person loses his appetite for dessert and, as result, takes fewer calories aboard. He also says those eating a hearty breakfast are more apt to keep slim. Ah, there sure is good news tonight!

If you have an automatic washer, be sure that water pressure in your house is 15 pounds at the tap. This can be checked by your local water department. If the pressure is lower, allow time for a longer washing cycle.

Make sure the electrical appliances in your kitchen are disconnected when you are not using them. Repair all electric cords and plugs when they are frayed.

Capacity Crowd Attends Diocesan Spring Conference Arranged By Local Parish

Attendance
Nears 1800

Speaking to a capacity audience at Memorial Hall, Sunday, Bishop Michael J. Ready of the Columbus diocese of the Catholic church said he was overjoyed at the wonderful work that was being accomplished by the various organizations in his diocese.

He was addressing between 1500 and 1800 members of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women at their Spring Conference. He also told of having spoken and attended a meeting the previous Sunday of the St. Vincent DePaul Society in Columbus, and said he was actually amazed at the work that organization is doing.

Illustrating the subject of the need of vocations, which was the theme of the conference, he said that just the evening before he had visited at the death bed of three religious in the city of Columbus. One elderly nun had been in charge of a correctional institution in Columbus for many years and another priest whose years of service to God could not be measured by time. He urged every parent to help and aid their children toward the religious life where ever they displayed any inclination toward that field. He said that the work that is being done now cannot be continued unless there are new persons to carry on the work.

Mrs. Alexander J. Gloeckner, president of the Diocesan council, presided at the meeting, which was opened by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Msgr. Winel, chancellor of the Columbus diocese and moderator of the diocesan council, gave the opening prayer. Mrs. William R. Flemington, Wellston, president of the Southern Deaneery gave the address of welcome. Mrs. Edmund Portisch, secretary of the council read the roll call of parishes and organizations in the diocese. Practically every parish and organization responded.

Talks were made by chairmen of the various standing committees. Mrs. Frank M. Vogel, Columbus talked on religious activities; Mrs. H. K. Thraikill, Washington C. H., on Catholic charities; Mrs. James E. O'Leary's subject was Parent-Teachers associations; International Relations was the subject of the talk by Mrs. Robert Richards and Social Action by Mrs. Constance C. Nichols.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the girls glee club from Catholic Central high school, Chillicothe with Thomas Cahill as soloist.

The Rev. Thomas W. Sabrey, Columbus, talked on "Our Lady of Good Counsel" and he was followed by Mrs. Glenn Sheridan whose subject was "Wanted — Catholic Marriages". Mother Catherine, O.L.V.M. of Washington C. H., who is a teacher of religion in St. Joseph's school here, was the next speaker and her subject was the "Religious Life." The Rev. Paul J.

Personals

Mrs. W. W. Robinson attended a Baha'i meeting in Columbus, Sunday afternoon. The speaker was Dhikru'llah Khadim, of Persia, world traveler and Hand of the Cause of Baha'u'llah. His subject was the international progress of the faith as revealed in his recent travels in Europe, Asia and Africa.

Mrs. H. E. Valentine of 219 Walnut St. will be hostess to members of the GOP Booster Club, Thursday, 7:30 p. m. in her home.

Berger hospital Guild 29 will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday instead of Wednesday as previously planned, in the home of Mrs. Fred Minshall, Pickaway Township. Mrs. Neil Morris and Mrs. Gerald Patrick will be assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Sarah Dumm of Akron, sister-in-law of Mrs. H. E. Valentine, is visiting in the Valentine home on Walnut St.

Guild 23 Meets In Cupp Home

Mrs. Kirk Cupp of N. Atwater Ave. was hostess to members of Berger hospital Guild 23, Friday evening. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Harold Moats and Mrs. D. E. McDonald.

Committees were named for the new year and new by-laws were passed.

As the project for the coming year, the group decided to buy a hot air sterilizer for the hospital.

Cards were played during the remainder of the evening and prizes were awarded Mrs. Robert Wood and Mrs. Richard Plum. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

O'Dea, Registrar at St. Charles Seminary, Columbus spoke on the Diocesan Priesthood. The closing prayer was by Rt. Rev. Roland T. Winel.

Memorial Hall was attractively decorated. A small shrine of the Blessed Mother was placed on the stage with palms and ferns for decoration.

Following the meeting Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by Bishop Ready in St. Joseph's church. Members of St. Aloysius parish Columbus, occupied the first 12 pews in the church and led the singing for Benediction.

Msgr. George O. Mason, pastor of the local church, entertained the visiting clergy with a buffet dinner in his home after the activities.

Following Benediction, a reception and tea was held in the basement of the church. Mrs. Paul Hang was chairman of the reception and general chairman for the meeting was Miss Rose A. Good, president of the Circleville council.

Party On Sixth Birthday Fetes Miss Halstenberg

Tamra Halstenberg was honored on her sixth birthday anniversary Saturday when her mother, Mrs. William Halstenberg, entertained with a party in their home on Cedar Heights Rd.

Party hats, horns and balloons were distributed to the guests, and refreshments were served.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Russel Spangler Jr., Mrs. Paul Hankins and Mrs. Jack Willoughby. Those present were the honored guest, Anita Kay Moats, Sharon Steplton, Melanie Hankins, Sondra Kay Willoughby, Cindy Sue Willoughby, Judy Moats, Josiane Glitt, Nancy Brobst, Jane Kutler; Marsha Brobst, Sharon Swingly, Cathy Wardell, Gloria Curl, Deena Darlene Halstenberg, Ricky Spangler, Timmy Bellamy, David Cupp and Douglas Price.

Games were played and prizes were awarded Judy Moats, Cathy Wardell, David Cupp and Melanie Hankins.

Washington Group Has Final Meet

Washington Township Home and School Association held its final meeting of the school year, Thursday evening, in the school auditorium.

A slate of officers for next year, consisting of president, Pete Bowman; vice-president, Bob Lands; secretary, Mrs. Oakley Leist; and treasurer, William Crist, was presented and approved by the association.

It was announced that school will close June 2. The organization voted to sponsor the school picnic, which will be held Friday, May 29.

The program was opened by two instrumental selections "Religioso" and "Welcome" played by Donald Leist, Myron Leist, Jerry Leist, Bill Bowman and Doyle Wiggins, accompanied by Betty Lou Leist.

Mrs. Ray Kuehner, the music teacher, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Leist, sang "Mother Marches."

Lydia Delong and Carol Leist played a saxophone duet "Moonlight and Roses," and Betty Lou Leist played a piano solo "Love Dreams."

Oakley Leist and William Crist showed two educational films entitled "A Miracle in a Feed Bag" and "Only Two for Tommy?"

Mrs. Foster Penn, Mrs. Carl Ramey, Mrs. Harold Herron, and Mrs. Willard Gaines served ice cream and cookies at the close of the meeting.

Art Exhibition Attended By 200

Approximately 200 persons attended the Spring art exhibition presented by members of the Circleville Art League, Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Pickaway County courthouse.

Art lovers from Circleville and all over Pickaway County attended to view the 56 pieces of work done by local artists and 20 selections by Junior Art League members. As an added feature of the show this Spring, six pieces of work by Leslie Cope, well known artist from Roseville, were added. Also included was carved leather work by Russ McFarland.

The next exhibition of the league will be held during the 1953 Pumpkin Show.

The entire membership participated in assembling the show and serving as hosts and hostesses during the three day event.

Trailmakers Meet In Herbst Home

Trailmakers Class of Calvary EUB church met at the home of Mrs. James Herbst, S. Washington St., Thursday evening with Mrs. Fred Woodward as assisting hostess.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Raymond Arledge, followed by prayer. Mrs. Arledge had charge of the business session. It was decided to help purchase carpeting for the rear of the church. Dish cloths were distributed to members as a selling project.

Plans were discussed for the Mother's Day party to be held Friday, May 8 at the church. Mrs. Bill Ankrom and Mrs. W. C. Shasteen are on the refreshment committee. Mrs. Harry Lutz and Mrs. Edward Bost are on the program committee.

The travelling gift was awarded to Mrs. Arledge. Mrs. Joe Brink had charge of the contests and prizes were won by Mrs. Manley Carothers, Mrs. William Purdin and Mrs. Lewis Cook. The Rev. James Herbst held a short meeting regarding plans for the church.

A dessert course was served by

'Still Life' Heralded Top Work In Spring Exhibit Of Art League

Overheard comment from the general public, along with a few individual and anonymous selections upon request, apparently gave top recognition in the Circleville Art League's Spring exhibit to "Still Life," an oil painting by Mrs. Henry Schroeder.

Rated a strong runner-up, however, with the possibility of a claim on equal laurels, was "Along Scippo," a water color by H. E. Montelius.

No award was involved and no expert study or comparison of the exhibit's many entries was attempted. Recognition was only on the basis of casual comments overheard among the viewers, and on a few individual and anonymous selections. Time for compiling the cross-section of opinion was brief, and the results made no claim to artistic qualifications.

The Art League's three-day exhibit ended Sunday night in the main floor corridor of Pickaway County courthouse. Viewers representing both the general public and local artists were outspoken in their praises of the standards set by the annual show this year.

ESPECIALLY noteworthy for all was the brilliant work exhibited by Leslie Cope of Roseville, professional artist and guest exhibitor of high national rank. In justice to district artists, his entries were considered apart from the others in the show. Many persons made no pretense at judging the exhibit's professional qualities.

"Still Life" appeared to be a definite favorite among the casual visitors. The artistic-minded also pointed it out as being superior.

However, its margin of top recognition apparently was not as clear-cut when studied from the viewpoint of "The picture I'd most like to take home with me." In this respect, "Along Scippo" seemed to have more friends, which may have earned it equal laurels on the basis of overall preference.

Third place honors apparently were more established, going on the unofficial basis to "Boat Basin—New Orleans," an oil by Ruth Montelius.

Entries by the Junior Art League members received such general commendation that none of the works could justly be rated outstanding without a study by qualified artists. Virtually all of the youngster paintings and sketches received laudatory notice, especially "Autumn," an oil by 15-year old Gail Dunlap, and "The Burrs," a charcoal sketch by Stevie Hedges, 8.

A VARIETY of overheard comments, while frequently reflecting the inexperienced tastes of the viewers, demonstrated at the same time the public's keen interest in the annual exhibition.

The snowflakes in "Safe-kept Memory" by Mrs. W. W. Robinson stirred at least one whispered controversy between two women visitors. One felt the snowflakes "spoiled it all," and the other insisted "snow looks exactly like that—and I think it's beautiful."

"Old Cape Cod Light" held special appeal above all others for those who said they could recall New England's seacoast, either from former residents or tourist travel.

"Stolen Fruit," by Mrs. Edwin Bach Jr., had particular attraction for some who know the carefree ways of puppies in a flower garden.

A pair of viewers stopped to comment on the "splendid effect" they saw in "Desert Flowers," by Mrs. Orin Clarke Stout.

Undisputed claimant to grin-provoking honors went to "Hoghouse at Midnight," a work by an unlisted artist who captured the theme of the county's best known "flying saucer" account. Some viewers, recalling the authentic report which spawned the idea, hesitated to approve it as a form of "making fun." Others, however, who appeared in the majority, thought it a worthy bit to furnish the exhibit's lighter touch.

In addition to the show's paintings, a carved leather scrapbook cover by Russ McFarland drew high praise.

8 Children Die In Home Blaze

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (P)—Eight children perished in a week end fire here.

Five of the eight were children of Philip and Winifred Derry, who suffered severe burns in a futile rescue attempt. They were Dorothy, 7; Reginald, 5; Clifford, 4; Eleanor, 3, and John, 1½. The other three, visiting cousins of the Derry children, were children of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trudell: Wilma, 14; Marion, 10, and Diane, 9.

Iranian Queen Arrives In Rome

ROME (P)—Iran's young Queen Soraya arrived in Rome today to receive medical treatment. Her husband, the Shah, remained in Iran.

Later the 21-year-old queen may visit Spain. A court spokesman in the Iranian capital said yesterday she would stay in Europe more than two months. The nature of her ailment was not disclosed.

WINSTON CHURCHILL, 78, Prime Minister of Great Britain, is shown in this composite photo as he would probably look if he were wearing the robes of the Garter. "Winnie" became Sir Winston when he was knighted by Queen Elizabeth II in Windsor Castle, London, as a member of "The Most Noble Order of the Garter." His wife will be Lady Churchill. The order is headed by the Queen.

CIO Labels Ike's Policy 'Liberal'

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower, in a letter to CIO President Walter Reuther, has pledged every useful step against "the stupidity of mass unemployment."

The letter, in reply to one Reuther wrote the President April 6, was hailed by the CIO News Saturday as "a clear outline for a liberal economic philosophy."

Launching Nears For Fishong II, Cabin Craft Built By Mason Young

When the Fishong II knifes through the blue of Buckeye Lake "with a bone in her teeth" later this month it will mean another Circleville craft has been added to the popular resort's summertime fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Young plan to take their new 20-foot cabin cruiser to the lake for launching in about a week. A bottle of champagne especially for that event was already aboard Saturday while the cruiser was being fitted to its trailer in the rear of the Young residence here.

With a seven-foot beam and weight estimated around 1,200 pounds, the craft is almost entirely the handiwork of Young himself. Except for the hull and cabin, he designed and built all of it, discarding a set of plans when he found them faulty or contrary to what he wanted.

Trim in gleaming white and tan, the mahogany plywood cruiser has ample facilities for luxury living afloat including dockside refrigeration connections and bottle gas for cooking.

THE CABIN interior affords comfortable seating room for at least six persons. Bunk room inside the cabin can be supplemented by cots on deck.

A large windshield for the craft's "flying bridge" was yet to be attached when the vessel was moved out into the alley behind the Young home. "We ran out of ceiling in the garage," her builder explained.

Mrs. Young explained how work had been started on the cruiser around the time of the 1952 Pumpkin Show.

"I had been yelling for a cabin cruiser," she laughed, to take the place of a fishing boat they formerly owned. They had named the boat the Fishong—as partial

Expert Says Educational TV To Be Boon To Conversation

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Remember that wisecrack of a few years ago, that television would ruin the ancient art of conversation?

Comes now the prediction that television will do no such thing but will stir people to more and better conversation than ever before.

This cheering picture was painted by Franklin Dunham, chief of the Radio-Television Division of the U. S. Office of Education, a veteran of nearly 30 years in radio and TV.

It was of educational television that Dunham was speaking, the new teaching medium which some say is the most significant development in the field since the invention of printing.

The world's first educational TV station goes into operation May 4 at Houston, Tex., under the direction of the University of Houston and the Houston Independent School District.

"It's only the beginning," says Robert R. Mullen, executive director of the National Citizens Committee for Educational Television. "The possibilities are limitless."

By fall the station will be airing seven courses for university credit: biology, humanities, history, psychology, music appreciation, economics and photography. Anyone within viewing distance of station KUHT will be privileged to study the course, but only those registering with the university and paying tuition fees will be eligible for credit.

Here are a few of the things these people expect of educational TV:

1. Direct teaching, for university credit, as at Houston.
2. Dramatized research, such as film clips on developments in the study of infantile paralysis.
3. News broadcasts, with film clips and background information.
4. Dramatic programs, which might include plays by well-known authors, dramatized versions of historical events, readings by writers and poets.

5. Musical programs.

6. Interviews with well-known citizens.

7. How-to-do-it talks on the raising of children, care of the teeth, gardening, building bookshelves, anything you can name.

"Television is to communication precisely what atomic energy is to science," says Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education.

"We find ourselves with a new medium which conceivably has the power to resolve many problems of communication which bedevil us today, so that man may understand more fully, more completely, more intimately."

Ralph Steetle, executive director of the Joint Council on Educational Television, an organization composed of seven major educational organizations, says: "It will fill the vacuum created in this world where materialistic values and speed have become so important."

Among the chief criticisms of commercial television, as it now exists, are claims that it is directed at adolescents, that it does not satisfy the intellectual needs of growing children and that it has led to a laziness in man's quest for means to entertain himself.

There have been many surveys of the reaction to commercial TV, like the Xavier University study in which 1,000 children in the sixth and seventh grades in Cincinnati were questioned about their TV habits.

Among the results of that survey:

1. Fifty-two per cent of the children reported their parents exercised no control over what they watched.

2. The most popular TV shows among those children were Milton Berle's variety show, three Western adventure film programs, Captain Video, Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts and two quiz shows.

3. The children stayed up to all hours watching television. For instance, 58 per cent of the kids said they watched a movie beginning at 11 p.m. at least once a week, and 13 per cent said they watched the show five times a week.

"Educational TV," Dunham said, "will supply programs that will be of genuine benefit to children, and adults too."

"Not that I have anything against Hopalong Cassidy. I think he represents something of value in American history, and the kids

Happiness Brought To U.S. Homes By Exchange Of POWs

By The Associated Press

The prisoner of war exchange brought happiness and relief to a comparative handful of American families but for thousands of others it meant disappointment and more dreary days of waiting.

In the seven-day period last week, 149 Americans regained their freedom in Korea.

But there are an estimated 3,000 more still in Communist hands. The end of the exchange Saturday dashed the hopes of their relatives who had waited tensely throughout the week for word their servicemen might be among those freed.

Thirteen Americans were in Saturday's trade.

Among the lucky relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Dean of Douglass, Kan. They are parents of Air Force Capt. Zach Dean, released after two years.

"I'm wonderfully happy," Mrs. Dean told a reporter. "At first I cried but the tears are all gone now."

At Lawton, Okla., Mrs. Cleola Green, wife of Army Capt. Marin W. Green, said:

"I'll bet if you could take my heart beat right now it will be going 90 miles an hour."

Mrs. Jose Villegas, who lives near San Antonio, Tex., said through an interpreter she, her husband and their eight other children often prayed at a small shrine erected in honor of their son, Cpl. Elias B. Villegas, 24. He was freed after two years and five months.

"I knew my boy would come home," said Mrs. Villegas.

News of Pvt. Earl L. Beck's release momentarily stunned his mother, Mrs. Nellie M. Koopman of Wheeling, W. Va. Then she exclaimed:

"Bless God. I've prayed every day. Bless God."

Does Your Farm Loan Have These Six Advantages?

1. Low interest rate for a long term?
2. Regular payments that cut down the principal as you go?
3. Permission to make extra payments in good years?
4. Privilege of arranging smaller payments in bad years?
5. A lender who will be in business for the life of the loan?
6. Small enough installments so you can pay them when your income drops?

You may secure a Federal Land Bank loan that has all of these features through the—

Robin Roberts Diet Pleases Leading Phils

30-Victory Record For Hurler Seen At His Present Pace

By Associated Press
The Robin Roberts three-day diet is doing wonders for the Philadelphia Phillies. No more tired, run-down feeling. No more blue Mondays.

With eight straight wins, a solid grip on first place and a long home stand against the West, the Phils are riding high. They can afford to relax today—an open date for all clubs.

Roberts, of course, has had solid help from Curt Simmons, Karl Drews and Jim Konstanty, but he is Mr. Big.

Unless the pitchers' union blows the whistle on him, the handsome college grad should be closing in on that 30-win mark by September. With a 3-1 start, Robin is running ahead of his 1952 pace, when he wound up with a 28-7 record.

Steve O'Neill, a manager who has been handling pitchers since long before Roberts was born, won't be keeping the kid on the three-day diet when he gets his pitching routine straightened out. Roberts would just as soon keep it up. He thrives on work.

Roberts started last week without a win. He beat New York Monday, 2-1, whipped Brooklyn Thursday night, 6-1, and stopped Pittsburgh yesterday in the first game of a double-header, 7-5. That's right. Three days' rest and pitch every third day.

Drews teamed up with him to sweep the pair from Pittsburgh yesterday, throwing a seven-hitter in the second game for an 8-1 decision with the help of Willie Jones' two-run homer.

George Shuba and Carl Furillo each drove in three runs in Brooklyn's 8-4 victory over the New York Giants in the rubber game of their three-game series. Billy Loes spaced 11 hits to top the Giants for the second time.

Bill Serena's two-run homer featured a four-run rally by the Chicago Cubs in the seventh inning for a 7-5 edge over the St. Louis Cardinals.

A Cincinnati-at-Milwaukee doubleheader was rained out.

Arcaro Sees Chance In Correspondent

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Bring together the nation's No. 1 stakes-winning jockey and a top-flight horse and you have a popular combination for Saturday's running of the $100,000 added Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

And that is just what Mrs. Gordon Guiberson's Correspondent and Jockey Eddie Arcaro figure to be when the 12 or so horses swing around the Downs' flower-bordered track in the 79th running of the turf classic for 3-year-olds.

Of course there is a horse by the name of Native Dancer who is certain to be the strong favorite of the turnout of more than 100,000. He has 11 straight victories in an unbeaten career to recommend him as the public's choice. But when Arcaro throws a leg over a horse in a race as rich as the Derby, he and his mount are sure to command respect.

Arcaro, winner of four $100,000 races on the West Coast last winter, has been on the front end at the finish of five Kentucky Derbies. He started his string with Lawrin in 1938 and added Whirlaway in 1941, Hoop Jr. in 1945, Citation in 1948 and Hill Gail last year. No other jockey can match that record.

The 37-year-old native of Newport, Ky., has reached the stage where he can just about choose his mount for the Derby. Alfred Vanderbilt wanted him to ride Social Outcast, stablemate of Native Dancer, but after doing no better than fourth back of the Dancer in Saturday's Wood at Jamaica, Arcaro said he would be astride Correspondent.

pitched Cleveland into first place in the American League by a margin of 28 percentage points over the New York Yankees. Although the Yanks are a half game ahead in the won-and-lost figures, the percentages, which are the determining factor, give the lead to the Indians. The difference in games played accounts for the confusion. Washington's Jim Busby drove in all the runs with two homers off Allie Reynolds for a 5-4 win, snapping a five-game Yank winning string.

Feller pitched a five-hitter to nip Detroit, 2-1, in the opener and Lemon rode home on a nine-run eighth inning for a 12-2 romp, his third win. The tribe now has won five in a row.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox split two, the Browns taking the first, 7-2, as Bob Elliott batted in four runs with a triple and homer. Joe Dobson shut out the Browns, 3-0, to beat rookie Mike Blyzka in the second game.

The Philadelphia A's and Boston Red Sox were washed out of two games at Fenway Park.

Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers has won 200 games and lost 147 in 14 years pitching against major league opposition.

Sokolsky's

These Days

that the American people should not be informed.

What is needed at this time is a White Book containing a full documentation of the relations between the Government of the United States and the governments of Russia, Soviet China, Great Britain and Formosa, concerning Korea.

George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, made a profound impression upon the country by a speech before the Associated Press in which he stated candidly and objectively what the United States in 1953 had inherited from previous administrations. I listened to that speech in the Waldorf-Astoria among more than 1,000 newspaper publishers and editors.

The shock of his exact, precise statement of fact was so sharp that it almost could be felt. No flamboyant oratory, no dialectical forensics could have equalled in exciting interest this almost balance-sheet reading.

It was the first time that even these well-informed men listened to the facts being marshalled without prejudice or suppression.

That is what needs to be done for the American people concerning our foreign commitments. I know beyond doubt, for instance, that the British recognized Soviet China a prematurely—an event that has affected all our Asian relations—with the consent, if not by the instigation, of the State Department, on the understanding that the United States would take a similar action after about a month. Then we left the British holding the bag.

The American people know nothing about what is being done in their name, but they have to pay the bill in the lives of their sons and in their national and personal wealth.

Blue Flame Show Boat Theme To Open 1953 Cooking School

3-Day Program Begins Here Tuesday Night

Memories of the old-time River Boat shows will be revived in Circleville Tuesday when the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. opens its 1953 version of the Gasco Food Institute in Memorial Hall.

Entitled "Blue Flame Show Boat," the traveling cooking school presents real drama in the kitchen. River Boat costumes worn by the cast add color to the lively activities in the opening performance.

Ohio Fuel is presenting the all new institute Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in cooperation with The Circleville Herald and local merchants. All three sessions will begin at 8 p. m. daily.

The show's spotlight will be on the two CP (cooking perfection) gas ranges, and, as the lecturer will point out, the homemaker is the heroine of the kitchen drama.

"BLUE FLAME Show Boat" has four acts, each dramatizing the appetite appeal of well-cooked and well-balanced meals. Three of the acts deal with cooking on different areas of the gas range. The fourth offers unusual food dishes in which the Servel gas refrigerator plays a major role.

A villain, always present in the old-time Show Boat melodramas, attempts to foil the cooking demonstration by stealing vital ingredients. But his villainous work only shows the versatility of the institute's recipes and modern gas ranges.

In one instance, an unusual substitute for milk is used to make a cake and aluminum foil is used to heat frozen vegetables in place of a pan pilfered by the institute manager, who plays the villain.

A silent partner in the show and in many family kitchens throughout the country is the Servel gas refrigerator which many an old-time river boat troupers would have been glad to have in his cast. Aunt Ginny's Peach Blossom Dessert is prepared through the benefits of the dependable refrigerator.

Other dishes, like green-minted apples, ham cornettes and snickerdoodles, keep the river boat theme running through the show.

The automatic gas clothes dryer, displayed in the institute for the first time this year, gives a sterling performance during the show.

When the "Blue Flame Show Boat" pulls up its gang plank and heads down the river, many pleasant features of new and delicious recipes will have been demonstrated through the use of modern automatic gas ranges and the Servel gas refrigerator.

Circleville merchants cooperating with The Herald and the gas company in presentation of the big, new 1953 cooking school are:

Legion Unit Checks On Aid Equipment

Persons who have borrowed wheel chairs, hospital beds, crutches and similar aids from Circleville American Legion and Auxiliary are asked to return the equipment or report immediately how much longer it may be needed.

James P. Shea, in charge of this service offered by the local Legion post, said:

"To make certain all our records are up-to-date, we have decided to check on the present use of equipment loaned out to handicapped persons in Pickaway County.

"Rather than undertake individual notices to all of those known to be using such equipment, we are asking instead that they report immediately on when the equipment can be returned.

"This more rapid procedure will also facilitate our efforts to oblige others who may wish to use the wheel chairs, hospital beds and crutches owned by the Legion post."

Shea's offices are located in Pickaway County Courthouse.

Careful About Jabs At Kremlin

KREMLIN, Okla. (AP)—Tourists pass daily through this city and smirk at its name.

But residents here refused to get red-faced. They explain Kremlin is a breed of saddle horse, as well as a place in Russia. They add not only was the town named after a horse, but it was named by the daughter of a "capitalist" railroad executive who admired that particular kind of horse back in 1894.

Dulles Slated To Seek Aid From Congress

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles returns from Paris today to seek vital financial support from Congress for a slowed-down European defense program.

This may prove to be a formidable task, not only because of the cost-cutting temper of Congress but also because of indications the defense buildup may henceforth go even slower than Dulles himself has advocated.

The secretary was due to report promptly to President Eisenhower on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meeting which he and other top U. S. officials attended.

The Council set military targets for the Atlantic Allies for this year at an increase of six divisions in Western Europe for a predicted total of about 56. Two years ago the aim by that time was close to 100 divisions.

The Eisenhower administration had favored a slowdown or stretch-out of the program for a long cold war struggle with the Soviets. Dulles thus abandoned the urgency with which representatives of the previous Truman administration had pressed the buildup.

Evidence that the whole project might go even slower than he wanted, however, was found in the fact that the German upper house without in recent days refused to ratify the European Defense Community Treaty, under which West Germany would be rearmament. Also, there has been speculation that the Soviet peace offensives would have a relaxing effect on defense preparations in Europe far more than in the U. S.

13 Persons Injured, One Fatally, In 4 Crashes Here Last Weekend

Thirteen persons were injured, one fatally, last weekend in a series of four auto mishaps on Pickaway County highways.

Fatally injured was Emma Hudson Clark, 26, of Columbus.

The Columbus woman was one of five persons hurt at about 3:15 a. m. Sunday on Route 104 near Route 316, about nine miles northwest of Circleville.

Deputy Carl White said the car in which the woman was riding was operated south by Robert Trowbridge, 25, of Columbus.

FRONT LEFT tire of the auto apparently blew out, White said, throwing the car out of control. The car swerved into a field and then travelled 138 feet before crashing into a tree stump.

Impact of the crash threw all five occupants of the car out onto the ground.

The woman was rushed into Berger hospital for emergency treatment and then transferred to University hospital, Columbus, where she died at 8 p. m. Sunday. She suffered a crushed chest, internal injuries and a fractured left ankle.

Trowbridge, the driver, suffered a fractured left arm, fractured left leg and lacerations. Other passengers were Sam Tucker, 17, raw gasoline burns and chest injuries; Eugene Dobson, 22, fractured right hip and bruises; and Dixie Lee Halley, 19, fractured right arm, concussion and lacerations.

Four men were injured at about 3 a. m. Sunday on Route 23 at Bell's Siding when an auto operated south by William Akers, 46, of Belleville, Mich., struck a concrete dividing abutment in the underpass. White said the driver apparently had fallen asleep.

Akers suffered chest injuries, punctured lung and fractured ribs. Passengers were Earl Coleman, 25, who suffered a back injury and a lacerated left foot; Robert May, 21, chest injuries, lacerated chin; and Roy Handy, 33, lacerated right eye, contusion of his right ankle.

A CIRCLEVILLE Route 1 girl, Waneta Kuhn, 17, was hurt at about 12:01 p. m. Saturday at the Gold Cliff Park service station on Route 23, four miles south of Circleville.

Deputy White said the girl was struck by an auto.

Kuhn suffered chest injuries, punctured lung and fractured ribs. Passengers were Earl Coleman, 25, who suffered a back injury and a lacerated left foot; Robert May, 21, chest injuries, lacerated chin; and Roy Handy, 33, lacerated right eye, contusion of his right ankle.

Zanesville Cop Kills Man, 28, In Argument

ZANESVILLE (P)—A 28-year-old Zanesville construction worker was shot to death in his home Sunday by a policeman while his brother and fiancée looked on.

Police Chief C. H. Courtney said Carroll C. Chandler was killed while resisting arrest by Patrolman Richard Wise. He absolved Wise of any neglect in the shooting.

Courtney said Wise was on routine patrol when he saw Chandler stumble on the steps of his home. He said Wise asked Chandler if he could "make it." And Chandler cursed him. Wise then attempted to arrest Chandler for intoxication but Chandler ran into the house.

Wise followed and Chandler and his brother, Leonard, struggled with the patrolman, said Courtney, adding that Carroll picked up a flower pot, apparently intending to use it as a weapon.

He said Wise drew his service revolver and Leonard grabbed it and pushed Wise into a window. The gun discharged, shooting Carroll in the chest.

Naomi Gibson, 17, who said she was the dead man's fiancée, was held as a material witness. Leonard Chandler was held under charges of interfering with an officer and resisting arrest.

IRONTON (P)—State Highway Patrolmen said they would file charges today against five men capturing in a chase by auto and on foot after a $100 restaurant holdup at nearby Oak Hill.

In the Lawrence County jail are Buster and Amos Johnson, brothers of Claypool, Ind.; Ralph Bailey, 17, also of Claypool; Felt Lemaster Jr., of Indiana; and Gordon Gibson, 18, of Goodhue, Ky. They were arrested near Aid, Lawrence County, after an 18-mile chase through roadblocks. Three were found late Saturday near a stolen car after it overturned and ran into ditch. The others were captured Sunday after an all-night search in the woods.

Korean Truce Talks Deadlock Again As UN Rejects Red Prisoner Plan

PANMUNJOM (P)—The new Korean armistice talks deadlocked again today as the UN Command flatly rejected a Red prisoner exchange proposal which it said offers only return to Communist rule or "endless captivity" for Reds who refuse to go home.

In their second meeting since Oct. 8, both Allied and Communist delegates stood pat on their own plans for settling the exchange problem and writing a truce.

Another session is scheduled for 11 a. m. Tuesday.

The truce talks were broken off Oct. 8 by the UN when it refused to force any prisoner to go home against his will. The Reds demanded all prisoners back, including some 50,000 Chinese and North Koreans who have said they won't go home.

Although the Allies threatened to call off the talks again unless the Reds show willingness to negotiate constructively, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied delegate, said it's "far too early" to think about such a move.

Meanwhile, the Panmunjom gate to freedom for sick and wounded Allied prisoners stood closed by the Reds.

The Communists said Sunday's shipment of 84 disabled Allied prisoners ended their delivery. In seven days they turned back 684 persons—149 Americans, 470 South Korean men and one woman, and 64 disabled prisoners from other nations. They had promised 605.

However, a UN spokesman said "considerably more" sick and wounded Reds would be returned than the 5,800 originally pledged, but he did not give any figure. The transfer of Communists continued at its 500-a-day rate.

In Tokyo, a UN spokesman said the first Americans released would be flown to the U. S. within the next couple of days. He did not give a specific date or number.

At Monday's 52-minute armistice meeting, each side suggested that the other take another careful look at its proposal.

Harrison told newsmen, "In this short time we have no real basis for assuming the Communists will not negotiate in good faith."

A reporter had asked him if the UN was considering a new suspension.

"I think it is far too early to come to any definite conclusion on a matter of that kind," Harrison said. He added that no one can reasonably expect negotiations, where two sides are far apart, to give any clear indications at the start.

Harrison opened the meeting by telling North Korean Gen.

Nam II that a six-point proposal by Nam Sunday was "unreasonable and obstructive."

He later said bluntly that the proposal was "unacceptable" and that the Communists "have proposed nothing which we can consider as either a reasonable or constructive basis for an armistice agreement."

Nam devoted his remarks to a restatement of the Communist proposal. It calls for:

1. Within two months after an armistice, repatriating those prisoners who want to go home.

2. Within another month, sending to a neutral state, to be chosen by the negotiators, all who refuse to go home.

3. Six months for making "explanations" to the refusing prisoners by representatives of their homelands.

4. Sending home those who change their minds.

5. If there are still some left who refuse repatriation, leaving their fate up to a high-level post-armistice political conference.

6. All expenses of prisoners held in a neutral state to be paid by their homelands.

To this plan, Harrison said: "It is a proposal for the prisoners' indefinite retention. Many of those men have been held in custody unnecessarily for nearly two years as a result of the unwillingness of your side to recognize their attitude. These captured personnel have the right to be released from custody as soon after an armistice as is practicable."

Top GOP, Dem Chiefs Agree On Budget-Balance Next Year

WASHINGTON (P)—Several top-ranking Republicans and Democrats, including Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), agreed today with Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) that the Eisenhower administration can balance the next fiscal year's budget.

But there was a wide difference of views about the Virginia senator's proposal that Congress keep excess profits and individual income taxes at present high levels until July 1, 1954, to get the revenue Byrd said would be needed.

And there was evidence that a stiff fight is developing over reported administration proposals to cut sharply the $2.7 billion that former President Truman proposed be spent on atomic energy development in the year beginning July 1.

Taft, Republican leader, said he agrees with Byrd that the budget can be balanced. But he declined to discuss details of the Virginia's proposal to trim $6.8 billion off Truman's spending program.

TAFT SAID some figures may be forthcoming when legislative leaders discuss the defense program with President Eisenhower at a White House conference Thursday. The Ohioan has called for a cut of about $4 billion in defense and about $2½ billion in foreign aid.

Byrd would keep defense spending at its present level and cut foreign aid $2.9 billion.

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, wouldn't comment on Byrd's proposal for keeping taxes at present levels.

The excess profits levy is scheduled to die July 1 and income taxes are due to drop 10 per cent next Jan. 1. A bill pending in the House would advance the date to July 1.

"We'll be all right, though. We'll balance the budget and we'll reduce taxes too," Millikin declared.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) said he believes a cut of $6 billion or more can be realized "without crippling the defense program or destroying the foreign aid program." But he didn't see much chance of keeping taxes at present levels.

Taft Aiming At Vote On Tideland Bill

WASHINGTON (P)—Senate Republican Leader Taft aimed today for a test vote in the windy battle over ownership of the oil-rich submerged coastal lands.

The Ohio legislator said he looked for a clearcut show of strength late today on an amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM), an advocate of federal control of the controversial areas.

But Taft said he was "not awfully optimistic" about setting up a date for a final vote on the House-approved bill which has been a storm center of Senate debate since April 1.

Anderson's amendment would knock out the bill's provision to establish state title to the offshore lands within the states' historic boundaries. It would substitute provisions to give the federal government title to the lands, with 37½ per cent of revenues from offshore developments in the marginal sea going to the coastal states.

Backers of federal control, while conceding they are outnumbered by senators favoring state control, have held the floor in long speeches to "educate the public."

Anderson said Sunday he thinks the state ownership bill will be passed within the next two weeks. But he predicted the Supreme Court would upset such a law, holding Congress has no right to give away title to the lands. It has so ruled on three previous occasions.

2 Antioch College Men Feared Lost

BELLEFONTAINE (P)—State park authorities renewed dragging operations today in an attempt to recover the bodies of two Antioch College students who apparently drowned Saturday when their canoe capsized.

David Frankel, 19, of Harrisburg, Pa., and William Kreuger, 19, of Tomah, Wis., are presumed to have drowned in the rough, windswept waters of Indian Lake. Officers recovered the canoe and a pair of swimming trunks before high waves and wind forced them to call off dragging operations Sunday.

Accord Reached

CLEVELAND (P)—The Nickel Plate Road and Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen reached agreement today in a dispute that twice in the last month was within eight hours of becoming a strike.

The invitation was accepted, the communique indicated, because Afshartus thought he was mediating between the Mossadegh regime and a parliament member recently at odds with the premier.

Nation's Munitions Setup Facing Entire Procurement Approach

WASHINGTON (P)—Roger M. Kyes, deputy secretary of defense, said today the Eisenhower administration will review the whole munitions picture and weed out high-cost arms plants to keep America strong in peace and war.

"Fantastic," Kyes called some of the planning done by the former Truman administration. A speech he prepared for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce convention here contained the sharpest criticism to come so far from the new administration of the Truman regime's rearmament program.

The No. 2 man in the Defense Department announced:

"Because in some instances the mobilization base is too widely diffused, there will be situations where a sufficient quantity of the item manufactured is not required to maintain a minimum economic production flow in all facilities."

"In these cases, certain of the facilities will be forced to stop production, and where necessary for the maintenance of the mobilization base, arrangements will be made for standby, while in others, the tools will be handled in such a manner as to assure their availability."

"THE GENERAL policy will be that of retaining the low-cost producer of desired goods, as against the high-cost producer."

But Kyes also said "careful consideration" would be given to preserving industries vital to defense which do not have full opportunity in civilian economy, noting that "the aircraft industry is an example of this type."

This major policy statement by Kyes presumably reflected the current views of Secretary of Defense Wilson, who has been in Europe. Both men are former top executives of General Motors.

A month ago Wilson was known to be questioning the wisdom of the "broad case" mobilization program instituted by the former administration.

The key defense official used sharp words in talking of the rearmament program started with the beginning of the Korean War in 1950—"fantastic paper targets, exaggerated figures, poor planning and inefficient execution."

He cited as examples: "One mobilization plan resulted in requirements over and above assets on hand which would cost $30 billion dollars for hard goods alone."

And: "Most of us would question the combat capabilities of a year's surplus of calculating machines."

He declared:

"WE HAVE BEEN and are paying dearly for two mistaken con-

Cop Gets Shiner, Calls Sheriff

LIMA (P)—What does a police chief do if someone blacks his eye?

"Just what any other citizen would do," said Lima Police Chief Kermit Westbay, tenderly massaging a massive shiner on his left eye. "I called the sheriff."

Westbay followed through with an assault and battery charge against Richard Garee, 23, of Lakeview, Logan County. Justice Frank Killian released Garee under $50 bond. The black eye came Sunday at Westbay's filling station on U. S. 30, south. The chief said he tried to quiet a disturbance.

CLEVELAND (P)—The strange man in the Western Union branch office carefully selected a telegram Sunday night. It read: "Happy birthday and many more."

Then he wrote a Chicago address on it and handed the greeting to the night manager, Mrs. Betty F. Janice, 46. That done, he walked through the swinging gate and leveled a gun at the cashier, Mrs. Lois Newcomer, 24. Detectives estimated today he got away with $2,000.

ceptions with respect to national security. First: unsound and unrealistic calculations and requirements for materials, equipment and supplies on the part of the military. Second: a neglect of the needs of a minimum military posture in time of peace."

He summed up his views on a mobilization base this way:

When choosing an organization "large or small" to comprise the mobilization base, Kyes said, there are six criteria: (1) it must have the management and technical knowledge required; (2) it must have adequate capacity;

(3) it must have enough capital so as not to be fully dependent on federal aid; (4) manpower must be available; (5) generally, no facility should fall below requirements for a minimum economic unit; (6) it should not be given more defense business than it can handle efficiently—up to three or four times its civilian dollar volume.

"An effective base for industrial mobilization is essential," as well as a minimum stockpile of material. We must maintain a careful balance between weapons that are immediately required if war occurs and the lead items necessary to produce in quantity weapons of proven design from existing or readily available capacity.

"Technological progress with respect to new weapons and equipment makes this a desirable policy, rather than risk the stockpiling of end items which deteriorate, or quickly become outmoded and obsolete."

A basic problem in munitions production, he said, is that civilians "cut the military to the bone in time of peace" and the military always calls for more than it needs in time of war.

To avoid waste and inefficiency, he said, both segments must practice restraint.

Two Blazes Blamed On Rubbish Fires

Rubbish fires resulted in two calls for Cincinnati fire department Sunday.

At 9:05 a. m., firefighters answered an alarm at a building housing Reple Construction Co. and Dean's Potato Chips on W. High St.

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said a rubbish blaze, aided by a strong wind, had spread to the roof of the brick structure. Damage, confined almost entirely to the roof, was estimated at $200.

At 8:25 p. m., the department was called to extinguish a blaze in an alley just off N. Court St., between Main and Watt. Wise said a rubbish fire set fire to a wooden fence.

Two Local Drivers Fined By Court

Two motorists were fined a total of $35 and costs last weekend in the court of Magistrate Oscar Root.

Ervin E. Young, 30, of 346 Barnes Ave., was fined $25 and costs for reckless driving. He was arrested on Route 23 by Deputy Carl White.

Russell Courts Jr., 18, of Circleville Route 3, was fined $10 and costs Saturday for crossing a yellow line. Deputy White arrested him on Route 23, north of Circleville.

MARKETS

GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (U)—Grains and soybean futures opened strong on the Board of Trade today. Corn was up as much as a cent a bushel and soybeans as much as 14 cents.

A bullish influence in the market was the Department of Agriculture announcement that it will extend for one year loans on the 1952 corn crop. This will permit farmers to keep their corn on farms through July 31, 1954, unless the government decides to make them mature earlier.

Wheat opened 3/4 to 1/2 higher, May $2.20 to $2.20 1/2, corn was up 1/4 to 1 cent, May $1.57 1/2-1.59, oats were 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May 74 1/2-75, and soybeans were 1/4 to 1 1/2 higher, May $9.07-9.06 1/2.

Newest City Paper Employs Startling Business Methods

Extraordinary business methods which could revolutionize the nation's newspaper field are seen as basis of success for The Cincinnati News—one of the city's latest and most startling publications.

Typical of its unique approach to the reading public, The News hit the streets here with a four-page edition in which pages one and four were left blank. Students of modern typographical format see in this a shrewd lure for readers who can't see what's inside the paper until they buy it.

Under its traditional logo, The News wastes no time with headlines after telling the customers what sheet they're reading. Instead, in the April 18 edition, it immediately and flatly proclaims:

"Mrs. Sheets of E. Franklin St. bought our 8 Easter chicks. We are in the rabbit business now!"

THIS IS frequently called the advertising teaser, since only by waiting for the following issue could readers determine whether Mrs. Sheets also bought the rabbits. And The News does not let you ponder the possibilities. Instead it goes on, in a direct, down-to-earth manner: "Cub Scout Pack 5 put on an old time black face minstrel at the Presbyterian church Thursday night. The boys taking part were David McDonald, Billy White, Johnny Adkins, Dave Coddle and Joe Schneider."

Nowhere is there lost motion in this aggressive news-writing style. And nowhere is there any tendency to linger over the minstrel show. The News proposes to give the news—period.

"Mrs. Martha Funk came home from the hospital," the paper continues. "Welcome home Mrs. Funk! Brenda Mary Johnson is six years old today—she had a birthday party at kindergarten yesterday. Anita Lee Hendrickson could not be there because she has the measles." Prominent among the ads is the announcement that one grocery is so far ahead of other food dealers that there isn't much use talking about it. In fact, The News doesn't talk about it—leaving the impact of this all-out advertising to bring in the buying public, and perhaps net a handout over the candy counter to the publishers.

Swinging back to the news of the day, the city's latest journalistic venture assures its readers: "Mrs. Doris Krieger is the new nurse helping Mrs. Scott at the Home and Hospital. She is spending the weekend with her daughter and family, Mrs. Ed Valentine of Stoutsville."

THIS, FOR A newspaper of letter-writing paper size, would be a noteworthy budget of daily news, but the publication still has time for a human interest touch and ends up vigorously with a warning to motorists. The punch paragraphs read this-a-way:

"We hope the snow and ice does not kill Mrs. Mader's pretty mag-nolia tree."

"Do not double park today for the police are busy tagging cars!"

Origin of The News was "spontaneous" when Brad Schneider, Gary Buskirk and Joe Schneider decided the Southern Ohio newspaper field needed more competition. Copies are run off on a hectograph in a strictly temporary plant, and the circulation has already climbed to 24.

Illustrating the business acumen behind the rapid success of this new enterprise is the following conversation between a subscriber and roving utility representative:

"How much is your paper?"
"Three cents, ma'am."
"Well, here's five cents."
(Strategic pause.)
"Do you have another penny, ma'am?"
"Why yes, I do—but you said only three cents."
"That's true, ma'am, but with this extra penny it makes six cents, and that gives you two papers instead of one."

It could not be learned immediately whether this is regarded as a shady practice by the American Newspaper Publishers Association. Large city dailies, however, privately admitted they would like to try the same thing.

Mother Admits Killing Tot, 2

KENTON (AP)—Kenton police held Mrs. Wilma Shaw, 24, who they say confessed killing her 2-year-old son Donald. Mrs. Shaw's husband, Richard, 26, was also held. No charges have been filed.

Police said Mrs. Shaw admitted killing the child by beating and kicking him in a fit of anger because she said he loved her husband more than her.

Expansion Guides Readied For Use

Builders, contractors and others directly interested in city expansion moves can now obtain a copy of the rules drawn up for a greater Circleville.

Chairman Bob Adkins of the City Zoning and Planning Commission said his group has now completed a set of rules and regulations for this purpose. The data is intended only for those who have use for it in the course of their work. Completion of the rules and reg-

WASHINGTON (AP)—On Thursday President Eisenhower will have completed his first 100 days in the White House. There will be comparisons between his first 100 days and those of Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman.

But these are comparisons without real significance since the circumstances under which the three men took over the presidency were different. A true judgment of Eisenhower's first 100 days may have to wait a year, perhaps years.

It will have to be pegged not so much on what he has done in these first 100 days but on the plans and decisions made in that period for the future.

Roosevelt took over when the country was broke and bewildered. He had to act fast to prevent collapse, and he did, with one emergency measure after another.

Truman's first 100 days were momentous—the surrender of Germany and the disintegration of Japan—but would have been the same no matter who sat in the White House. It was after the 100 days that Truman had to make his big decisions.

Eisenhower inherited, not a world war or an economic emergency, but situations which, while they contained critical elements, were mainly static. The country was amazingly prosperous; there was a cold war with Russia; there was a hot war in Korea.

All three situations had been in existence long before Eisenhower's election and none called for instant solution or emergency handling. Rather, each had to be considered carefully.

The prosperity might not last if the Eisenhower administration was not wise enough to do all the right things as they needed to be done, perhaps one at a time, over a number of years.

But at least with prosperity there was no crisis at home. That may explain why, in domestic problems, Eisenhower has acted at times less like a leader and more like a partner of Congress.

In foreign affairs he has followed almost rigidly a policy laid down by Truman. Some few changes he has made seem small now, but may be so profound in the long run as to be the basis upon which Eisenhower's first 100 days eventually will be judged.

He plans to back the French more fully in their war with the Communists in Indochina. Long after the Korean War is over that may be the key to blocking Communist expansion in Asia.

While his administration is talking about reduced foreign aid and defense spending, Eisenhower has cautioned that neither this country nor its allies should relax defense efforts simply because the Russians are making peaceful sounds.

Yet the Russian peace maneuver may have been a factor in persuading the Eisenhower administration it is time now to cut foreign aid and defense spending. If the Russians were acting warlike, it's certain the cuts would not be proposed.

Panel Cautions On Red Gestures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet spy activity in the U. S. and other free countries might be stepped up behind the cloak of Russian peace overtures, says a Senate foreign relations subcommittee.

The subcommittee report, compiled before last week's statements in the Kremlin-controlled Moscow press, was published Saturday.

In it, Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) cautioned against friendly gestures by the Russians. He said they may be "but one of the zig-zagging phases" to be followed by "open antagonism."

The Moscow newspapers pictured Russia as sticking to its foreign policy but with a readiness for "businesslike" discussions with the West.

New Loyalty Program Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's conference with three of Congress' top searchers for subversion today may bring out details of a new federal employee loyalty program.

Atty. Gen. Brownell, invited to attend the conference along with Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), Senators McCarthy (R-Wis) and Jenner (R-Ind) and other congressional leaders, said in a radio interview last night the White House will announce details of the new program soon.

German Press Irks McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has complained that some of 96 German newspapers receiving U. S. financial aid have been "highly critical" of President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and himself.

In a letter to Dulles Saturday, McCarthy said two investigators he sent to Europe, Roy Cohn and David Schine, had uncovered this and other data. Cohn and Schine are employed by the investigations committee McCarthy heads.

McCarthy said the funds were supplied the newspapers through the State Department's international information program to make sure the German people were kept abreast of U. S. foreign policy. Instead, he said, some of the papers criticized "President Eisenhower, yourself and the undersigned."

Capacity Crowd Attends Diocesan Spring Conference Arranged By Local Parish

Attendance Nears 1800

Speaking to a capacity audience at Memorial Hall, Sunday, Bishop Michael J. Ready of the Columbus diocese of the Catholic church said he was overjoyed at the wonderful work that was being accomplished by the various organizations in his diocese.

He was addressing between 1500 and 1800 members of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women at their Spring Conference. He also told of having spoken and attended a meeting the previous Sunday of the St. Vincent DePaul Society in Columbus, and said he was actually amazed at the work that organization is doing.

Illustrating the subject of the need of vocations, which was the theme of the conference, he said that just the evening before he had visited at the death bed of three religious in the city of Columbus. One elderly nun had been in charge of a correctional institution in Columbus for many years and another priest whose years of service to God could not be measured by time. He urged every parent to help and aid their children toward the religious life where ever they displayed any inclination toward that field. He said that the work that is being done now cannot be continued unless there are new persons to carry on the work.

Mrs. Alexander J. Gloeckner, president of the Diocesan council, presided at the meeting, which was opened by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Msgr. Wines, chancellor of the Columbus diocese and moderator of the diocesan council, gave the opening prayer. Mrs. William R. Flemington, Weston, president of the Southern Deaneery gave the address of welcome. Mrs. Edmund Portisch, secretary of the council read the roll call of parishes and organizations in the diocese. Practically every parish and organization responded.

Talks were made by chairmen of the various standing committees. Mrs. Frank M. Vogel, Columbus talked on religious activities; Mrs. H. K. Thraikill, Washington C. H., on Catholic charities; Mrs. James E. O'Leary's subject was Parent-Teachers associations; International Relations was the subject of the talk by Mrs. Robert Richards and Social Action by Mrs. Constance C. Nichols.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the girls glee club from Catholic Central high school, Chillicothe with Thomas Cahill as soloist.

The Rev. Thomas W. Sabrey, Columbus, talked on "Our Lady of Good Counsel" and she was followed by Mrs. Glenn Sheridan whose subject was "Wanted — Catholic Marriages". Mother Catherine, O.L.V.M. of Washington C. H., who is a teacher of religion in St. Joseph's school here, was the next speaker and her subject was the "Religious Life." The Rev. Paul J.

Committees were named for the new year and new by-laws were passed.

As the project for the coming year, the group decided to buy a hot air sterilizer for the hospital.

Cards were played during the remainder of the evening and prizes were awarded Mrs. Robert Wood and Mrs. Richard Plum. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

O'Dea, Registrar at St. Charles Seminary, Columbus spoke on the Diocesan Priesthood. The closing prayer was by Rt. Rev. Roland T. Wines.

Memorial Hall was attractively decorated. A small shrine of the Blessed Mother was placed on the stage with palms and ferns for decoration.

Following the meeting Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by Bishop Ready in St. Joseph's church. Members of St. Aloysius parish Columbus, occupied the first 12 pews in the church and led the singing for Benediction.

Msgr. George O. Mason, pastor of the local church, entertained the visiting clergy with a buffet dinner in his home after the activities. Following Benediction, a reception and tea was held in the basement of the church. Mrs. Paul Hang was chairman of the reception and general chairman for the meeting was Miss Rose A. G. O. O. D. president of the Circleville council.

Expert Says Educational TV To Be Boon To Conversation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Remember that wisecrack of a few years ago, that television would ruin the ancient art of conversation?

Comes now the prediction that television will do no such thing but will stir people to more and better conversation than ever before.

This cheering picture was painted by Franklin Dunham, chief of the Radio-Television Division of the U. S. Office of Education, a veteran of nearly 30 years in radio and TV.

It was of educational television that Dunham was speaking, the new teaching medium which some say is the most significant development in the field since the invention of printing.

The world's first educational TV station goes into operation May 4 at Houston, Tex., under the direction of the University of Houston and the Houston Independent School District.

"It's only the beginning," says Robert R. Mullen, executive director of the National Citizens Committee for Educational Television. "The possibilities are limitless."

By fall the station will be airing seven courses for university credit: biology, humanities, history, psychology, music appreciation, economics and photography. Anyone within viewing distance of station KUHT will be privileged to study the course, but only those registering with the university and paying tuition fees will be eligible for credit.

Here are a few of the things these people expect of educational TV:

1. Direct teaching, for university credit, as at Houston.
2. Dramatized research, such as film clips on developments in the study of infantile paralysis.
3. News broadcasts, with film clips and background information.
4. Dramatic programs, which might include plays by well-known authors, dramatized versions of historical events, readings by writers and poets.

5. Musical programs.
6. Interviews with well-known citizens.
7. How-to-do-it talks on the raising of children, care of the teeth, gardening, building bookshelves, anything you can name.

"Television is to communication precisely what atomic energy is to science," says Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education.

"We find ourselves with a new medium which conceivably has the power to resolve many problems of communication which bedevil us today, so that man may understand more fully, more completely, more intimately."

Ralph Steelt, executive director of the Joint Council on Educational Television, an organization composed of seven major educational organizations, says: "It will fill the vacuum created in this world where materialistic values and speed have become so important."

Among the chief criticisms of commercial television, as it now exists, are claims that it is directed at adolescents, that it does not satisfy the intellectual needs of growing children and that it has led to a laziness in man's quest

Happiness Brought To U.S. Homes By Exchange Of POWs

By The Associated Press

The prisoner of war exchange brought happiness and relief to a comparative handful of American families but for thousands of others it meant disappointment and more dreary days of waiting.

In the seven-day period last week, 149 Americans regained their freedom in Korea.

But there are an estimated 3,000 more still in Communist hands. The end of the exchange Saturday dashed the hopes of their relatives who had waited tensely throughout the week for word their servicemen might be among those freed.

Thirteen Americans were in Saturday's trade.

Among the lucky relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Dean of Douglass, Kan. They are parents of Air Force Capt. Zach Dean, released after two years.

"I'm wonderfully happy," Mrs. Dean told a reporter. "At first I cried but the tears are all gone now."

At Lawton, Okla., Mrs. Cleola Green, wife of Army Capt. Marin W. Green, said:

"I'll bet if you could take my heart beat right now it will be going 90 miles an hour."

Mrs. Jose Villegas, who lives near San Antonio, Tex., said through an interpreter she, her husband and their eight other children often prayed at a small shrine erected in honor of their son, Cpl. Elias B. Villegas, 24. He was freed after two years and five months.

"I knew my boy would come home," said Mrs. Villegas. News of Pvt. Earl L. Beck's release momentarily stunned his mother, Mrs. Nellie M. Koopman of Wheeling, W. Va. Then she exclaimed:

"Bless God. I've prayed every day. Bless God."

Robin Roberts Diet Pleases Leading Phils

30-Victory Record For Hurler Seen At His Present Pace

By Associated Press

The Robin Roberts three-day diet is doing wonders for the Philadelphia Phillies. No more tired, run-down feeling. No more blue Monday days.

With eight straight wins, a solid grip on first place and a long home stand against the West, the Phils are riding high. They can afford to relax today—an open date for all clubs.

Roberts, of course, has had solid help from Curt Simmons, Karl Drews and Jim Konstanty, but he is Mr. Big.

Unless the pitchers' union blows the whistle on him, the handsome college grad should be closing in on that 30-win mark by September. With a 3-1 start, Robin is running ahead of his 1952 pace, when he wound up with a 28-7 record.

Steve O'Neill, a manager who has been handling pitchers since long before Roberts was born, won't be keeping the kid on the three-day diet when he gets his pitching routine straightened out. Roberts would just as soon keep it up. He thrives on work.

Roberts started last week without a win. He beat New York Monday, 2-1, whipped Brooklyn Thursday night, 6-1, and stopped Pittsburgh yesterday in the first game of a double-header, 7-5. That's right. Two days' rest and pitch every third day.

Drews teamed up with him to sweep the pair from Pittsburgh yesterday, throwing a seven-hitter in the second game for an 8-1 decision with the help of Willie Jones' two-run homer.

George Shuba and Carl Furillo each drove in three runs in Brooklyn's 8-4 victory over the New York Giants in the rubber game of their three-game series. Billy Loes spaced 11 hits to top the Giants for the second time.

Bill Serena's two-run homer featured a four-run rally by the Chicago Cubs in the seventh inning for a 7-5 edge over the St. Louis Cards.

A Cincinnati-at-Milwaukee doubleheader was rained out.

Bob Feller and Bob Lemon

Arcaro Sees Chance In Correspondent

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Bring together the nation's No. 1 stakes-winning jockey and a top-flight horse and you have a popular combination for Saturday's running of the $100,000 added Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

And that is just what Mrs. Gordon Guiberson's Correspondent and Jockey Eddie Arcaro figure to be when the 12 or so horses swing around the Downs' flower-bordered track in the 99th running of the turf classic for 3-year-olds.

Of course there is a horse by the name of Native Dancer who is certain to be the strong favorite of the turnout of more than 100,000. He has 11 straight victories in an unbeaten career to recommend him as the public's choice. But when Arcaro throws a leg over a horse in a race as rich as the Derby, he and his mount are sure to command respect.

Arcaro, winner of four $100,000 races on the West Coast last winter, has been on the front end at the finish of five Kentucky Derbies. He started his string with Lawrin in 1938 and added Whirlaway in 1941, Hoop Jr. in 1945, Citation in 1948 and Hill Gail last year. No other jockey can match that record.

The 37-year-old native of Newport, Ky., has reached the stage where he can just about choose his mount for the Derby. Alfred Vanderbilt wanted him to ride Social Outcast, stablemate of Native Dancer, but after doing no better than fourth back of the Dancer in Saturday's Wood at Jamaica, Arcaro said he would be astride Correspondent.

pitched Cleveland into first place in the American League by a margin of 28 percentage points over the New York Yankees. Although the Yankees are a half game ahead in the won-and-lost figures, the percentages, which are the determining factor, give the lead to the Indians. The difference in games played accounts for the confusion.

Washington's Jim Busby drove in all the runs with two homers off Allie Reynolds for a 5-4 win, snapping a five-game Yank winning string.

Feller pitched a five-hitter to nip Detroit, 2-1, in the opener and Lemon rode home on a nine-run eighth inning for a 12-2 romp, his third win. The tribe now has won five in a row.

The St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox split two, the Browns taking the first, 7-2, as Bob Elliott batted in four runs with a triple and homer. Joe Dobson shut out the Browns, 3-0, to beat rookie Mike Blyzka in the second game.

The Philadelphia A's and Boston Red Sox were washed out of two games at Fenway Park.

Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers has won 200 games and lost 147 in 14 years pitching against major league opposition.

that the American people should not be informed.

What is needed at this time is a White Book containing a full documentation of the relations between the Government of the United States and the governments of Russia, Soviet China, Great Britain and Formosa, concerning Korea.

George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Treasury, made a profound impression upon the country by a speech before the Associated Press in which he stated candidly and objectively what the United States in 1953 had inherited from previous administrations. I listened to that speech in the Waldorf-Astoria among more than 1,000 newspaper publishers and editors.

The shock of his exact, precise statement of fact was so sharp that it almost could be felt. No flamboyant oratory, no dialectical forensics could have equalled in exciting interest this almost balance-sheet reading.

It was the first time that even these well-informed men listened to the facts being marshalled without prejudice or suppression.

That is what needs to be done for the American people concerning our foreign commitments. I know beyond doubt, for instance, that the British recognized Soviet China prematurely—an event that has affected all our Asian relations—with the consent, if not by the instigation, of the State Department, on the understanding that the United States would take a similar action after about a month. Then we left the British holding the bag.

The American people know nothing about what is being done in their name, but they have to pay the bill in the lives of their sons and in their national and personal wealth.
